Presidential Trip to Have
Vital Bearing On Next
Year's Campaign

COVERS 15,000 MILES

Chief Executive to Deliver
Address On World Court
Thursday

Washington, June 20.—President Harding began today the transcontinental tour that will put to the test the record of his administration thus far and his program for the next congress, the last before the national election of November, 1924.

To the middle west and the west, the states which the Republican party builds its hopes of victory next year, the president will carry his message. There will be no evasion of issues on the president's tour. Controversial subjects—the world court, transportation problems, the difficulties of the farmer, immigration, taxation and the tariff—loom large on the Harding program of speeches.

The president's address on the world court will be delivered tomorrow in St. Louis, the stronghold of Senator James A. Reed, irreconcilable and opponent of the administration plan for joining the permanent court of international justice. Republican leaders are watching with interest for the first reactions to the president's remarks. Eighteen other speeches are included on the president's program and trained political observers are ready to report to Republican national headquarters in Washington the response of the people to the chief executive's utterances.

From St. Louis the president goes to Kansas City, where he will deliver another prepared address on Friday. This speech will deal with the nation's transportation problem. At Hutchinson, Kansas, Mr. Harding will discuss agricultural questions. Other places at which the president will speak are: Denver, June 25; Cheyenne, June 26; Salt Lake City, June 26; Pocatello, Idaho, June 28; Idaho Falls, June 28; Butte, June 29; Helena, June 29; Spokane, July 2; Portland, July 4; Tacoma, July 5.

The president will leave Tacoma for Alaska, on July 5, and will reach Seattle on the return voyage on July 27. He will deliver addresses at Vancouver, B. C., July 26; Seattle, July 27; San Francisco, July 31; Los Angeles, Aug. 1 and San Diego, Aug. 4. From San Diego, the president and his party will sail for the Atlantic Coast via the Panama Canal and Porto Rico.

Final Conferences Held.

The president's tour will be the longest ever taken by any chief executive except William Howard Taft, now chief justice of the supreme court. Taft, on his famous "swing-around-the-circle" while president, covered 15,077 miles, twenty more than the Harding tour contemplates. Harding will be away from the capital for two months.

Two members of his official family to confer at length with the president before his departure were Attorney General Daugherty and Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. The president regards prohibition enforcement as the most embarrassing problem confronting the federal government and wished to go over the situation personally with Mr. Haynes.

Prohibition enforcement was also the feature of the president's conference with Mr. Daugherty, to whom has been referred the question of using the army and navy to deal with violators of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. The attorney-general, it is understood, informed his chief that, as yet, no final draft of a decision had been completed. Existing laws of congress, it was stated, must be modified before the president would be warranted in using either army or navy for prohibition enforcement. Mr. Daugherty also took up with president a number of cases dealing with certain "political" prisoners serving sentences in federal penitentiaries for violations of war time legislation.

ONE IS KILLED IN ATTACK ON JAIL

Savannah, Ga., June 20.—One man is dead and several others are wounded as a result of an attempted jail delivery here early today.

A mob estimated by Savannah officers to include more than 3,000 men stormed the jail shortly after midnight in an unsuccessful effort to secure a Negro accused of assaulting a white woman.

The jail today is under heavy guard by the state militia, which was called out when some 150 officers decided they were unable to protect their prisoner. Further violence was not expected.

REPUBLICAN WINS

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 20.—Arthur B. Williams, Republican, Battle Creek attorney, was elected congressman from the third district to succeed the late John M. C. Smith, of Charlotte, defeating Claude S. Carney, of Kalamazoo, Democrat, by 466 votes at the Tuesday election. The vote: Williams 9,046; Carney 8,580.

TWELVE LIVES TAKEN BY HEAT WAVE IN STATE

Weather Bureau Holds Out
No Hopes for Lower
Temperature

Cleveland, June 20.—A heat wave, preceding the official arrival of summer tomorrow, today had claimed twelve lives throughout the state, and the United States Weather Bureau held out no hopes for lower temperatures at least for a day or so. Five persons were dead in Cleveland as a result of the extreme heat, three in Cincinnati and on each at Piqua, Conneaut, Laurelville and Wexie. An unusual number of drownings were recorded when people sought relief from the blistering rays of the June sun in streams and lakes.

Late yesterday black storm clouds gave promise of a shower that would relieve the torridity in Cleveland, but a breeze blew the clouds eastward before they could precipitate any cooling moisture upon the perspiring land.

In addition to the deaths, a number of cases of heat prostrations were reported throughout the state.

Telephone Girl Wins Beauty Honors

Miss Dorothy Watson, of St. Paul, Minnesota, pretty seventeen year old telephone operator, has been acclaimed the most beautiful girl in St. Paul and is the proud possessor of a trophy in a national beauty contest to be held in New York. The winner, according to present plans, will be given an opportunity to enter the movies.

KELLY ENTERED IN GOLF MEET

J. E. Kelly of this city, professional at the Miami Valley Golf Club Dayton is paired with W. F. Day, of the Inverness Country Club, Toledo, in the qualifying round of the twentieth tournament of the Ohio Golf Association to be held at the Inverness Club during the next four days.

One hundred and seventy-eight golfers, comprising the cream of Ohio's golf talent, are entered in the tourney which is expected to surpass any previous event of its kind ever held.

SHORTAGE CLOSES BANK.

Wichita, Kan., June 20.—The American State bank, one of the strongest banks in Kansas, closed its doors, following the discovery of the defalcation of $1,500,000 by Philip A. Drumm, cashier, the Wichita clearing house announced. The cashier used the bank's funds to invest heavily in oil properties, bank officers stated. Drumm confessed, according to clearing house officials.

TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES

Miss Margaret Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Davis, of South Detroit Street, arrived home Sunday morning from Oberlin College, for a short visit with her parents. She left Tuesday night for Cleveland, going directly from there for the Goodrich settlement estate, located near Hudson, Ohio. Miss Davis will assume the duties of recreational director of the girls work and will have charge of all dramatic work with both boys and girls. She will be located there until September 6.

SCARBOROUGH DELIVERS ADDRESS

taken out of the earth under her personal direction. Before engaging in the mining business Miss Johnson was a designer of fancy gowns and millinery in Chicago and Los Angeles.

BRAKEMAN KILLED WHEN TRAIN JUMPS TRACK, HITTING HOUSE

Tree Broken Off By Impact Falls Into Bedroom of House
But Occupants Escape Injury—Other Members of Crew Are Unhurt

Dayton, O., June 20.—F. A. Landis, brakeman on the Western Ohio Freight Line, and electric railroad was instantly killed at 5 a. m. this morning when the six-car train, plunging down hill struck a curve, was derailed, broke off a large tree and crashed into a double house at Sidney.

The impact of the train sent the tree crashing into the bedroom occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Orth Simms. The tree fell across their bed but they were not injured.

The cars following the tree smashed in one side of the house. Landis is believed to have jumped and was found crushed to death beneath the trucks. Other members of the crew remained in their car and escaped injury.

AFRICAN PRESIDENT TO BE SENTENCED

New York, June 20.—Marcus Garvey, "president of Africa," sits in a cell with his ear to the door listening for the tom-toms of the "African legion" that he expects to save him from doing a term for using the United States mails to defraud negroes of the United States of $1,000,000.

But the "legion" will not come and the African Napoleon is going away from here for quite a spell tomorrow, when Judge Mack hands out his sentence. The United States attorney told the court that Garvey had organized the "African legion" and had armed them for any contingency. The prosecutor said: "There is positive danger if Marcus Garvey is allowed at large at this time. We have evidence showing that he used some of the funds he collected to purchase guns and ammunition. He is head of the African legion, which will stop at nothing to protect Marcus Garvey."

Garvey, it was charged, used the mails to defraud in selling stock of the Black Star line, which was to build a fleet of ships to take the negro back to Africa, there to be ruled by the benign Marcus.

DONAHEY GRANTS FULL PARDON TO BOY

Columbus, O., June 20.—Governor Donahey announced today that he has granted a full and unconditional pardon to Carmi Worthington, Zanesville boy, who has been held in the Mansfield Reformatory since January 20, on a charge of having taken a mortgaged automobile into another state, in violation of law.

The pardon was recommended by the state pardon and parole board, following receipt of a letter from the trial judge, C. C. Lemert, of the Muskingum County Common Pleas Court, and County Prosecutor C. A. Mitchell, who both recommended that Worthington be pardoned.

DENBY FAVORS NEW PARLEY TO SOLVE PROBLEM

Secretary Thinks Meeting
Would Clear Up De-
batable Questions

VIOLATION ALLEGED

Spirit of Pact Said to Have
Been Affected by Great

Washington, June 20.—Revelation in news dispatches of Great Britain's violation of the spirit if not the letter of the five-power naval treaty by constructing a super-submarine carrying a 12-inch gun created a stir in the state and navy departments.

Naval authorities charged with responsibility for maintaining the nation's first line of defense frankly admitted that this surprising development, coming close after other advantages, disclosed to have resulted to other powers from the conference on limitation of armaments, leaves the United States in a hopelessly inferior position, unless the situation is corrected.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, after discussing the various matters which recently have arisen in connection with the naval pact, including the 12-inch submarine gun, declared he was in favor of an international interchange of opinions or another international conference, if necessary, to clear up all these "debatable" questions.

The two foremost questions which have come up thus far are the right of Great Britain to retain the super-submarine, and whether or not the United States is prevented, as Great Britain claims, from increasing the elevation on guns on capital ships so as to give them equal range with that of the British dreadnaughts.

Secretary Denby emphasized that he was speaking solely for himself and that he had not had any consultation with the secretary of state. He had not decided, he added, whether he would suggest an international conference or interchange of interpretations of the pact before or after congress is convened in December. He leans to the early settlement of the questions. This proposed resubmission to the signatory nations of what the secretary calls "debatable" questions is specifically provided for in the treaty. What view Secretary Hughes will take, however, has not been ascertained.

American navy experts are equally resentful against those whose duty it was to protect the interests of their country against the cunning representatives from abroad as against Great Britain's concealment of the fact that she had "laid down" the monster submarine. These experts say retention of this craft would be a clear violation of the treaty, or so near a violation that there is no moral difference between what the British have done and what she claims to have done by right.

NEGRESS MURDERS ITALIAN HUSBAND

Washington, June 20.—President Harding has relinquished control of his newspaper, the Marion Star, of Marion, Ohio, to Louis H. Brush of Salem, O., and Roy D. Moore, of Columbus, it was announced at the White House today.

Mr. Harding will continue to write editorials for the paper which he has owned for 40 years but will retire from active management.

YOUTH IS SOUGHT.

Cincinnati, June 20.—Police are seeking David Goetz, 21 years old, as a result of the shooting of his aunt, Mrs. Nettie Doerr, 38, at whose residence, 406 Wagner Street, he made his home. A bullet wound in her scalp she explained as accidental, but the youth vanished. An argument was said to have preceded the shooting.

Plans to Introduce New Beer Bill

Fred A. Britten, Rep.

Rep. Fred D. Britten, Republican of Illinois, a "wet" leader, has announced his intention of introducing a beer-and-light wines bill on the first day of the new Congress. In an explanatory statement he declared that $700,000,000—more than enough to run the entire Army and Navy for a year—could be produced in revenue by permitting the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer under Federal tax. "Such a tax would be paid more cheerfully than any other the Government could impose," he declared. "It would not only take care of a soldier's bonus, but would pay off the whole national debt in twenty years."

NO ARRESTS MADE IN INVESTIGATION OF SAFE BLOWING

Although bloodhounds were used Tuesday in an attempt to trace the whereabouts of the yegg who blew the safe in the mill of The Devine Company, at Old Town early Tuesday morning, no arrests have yet been made, according to information from the Sheriff's office.

The bloodhounds were obtained from Blanchester and Sheriff Morris Sharp accompanied them to the mill where the hunt was taken up. The yegg used a heavy charge of dynamite, completely wrecking the safe, but obtained only $25. He then escaped from a basement door after breaking the lock and forced the mill race to make his escape.

The dogs took up the scene farther down the stream, indicating the safe-blower had continued in the stream for some time before climbing out on an opposite bank. The dogs led officers across a corn field and into the village of Old Town.

PYTHIANS MAKING MERRY AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, June 20.—The state fair grounds here today is a scene of great activity, with 20,000 visiting Knights of Pythias, members of the Pythian Sisters and "Dokies" on hand to aid local lodges, celebrate their annual jubilee day, and to witness the initiation of 1,000 candidates.

A parade of 1,000 Pythians, representing every branch of the order, marched through the downtown district this morning, in charge of Col. Robert Haubrich, and was viewed by Governor Donahey and Grand Lodge officials.

Speeches, a field meet and exhibition drills are to take place at the state fair grounds, this afternoon.

SPRINGFIELD MAN SENTENCED.

Cincinnati, June 20.—Driving a motor car when he was intoxicated brought a jail sentence upon Richard L. Taylor, of Springfield, Ohio, yesterday. George F. Eyrich, Jr., municipal court judge, fined Taylor $100 and imposed a ten day term in a cell.

RIVER OF LAVA DEVASTATES 11 ITALIAN TOWNS

Nearly 100,000 People Are Homeless as Result of Volcano Action

EAST SICILY BURIED

No Loss of Life Reported—
Fear of Earthquake Still Continues

Rome, June 20.—Nearly 100,000 persons were homeless today from the torrent of destruction which continues to roll in a devastating stream from the flaming crater of Mount Etna. Eleven Sicilian villages and towns have been completely or partially destroyed by the relentless sweep of the river of molten lava.

It is feared that Giarrè, a town of 17,000 souls, and Linfrangiosa, a community of 13,000 residents, are doomed.

The whole of Eastern Sicily is buried under a blanket of ashes, cinders and volcanic dust. Clouds of cinders, borne by the wind, are falling upon the mainland.

A lava stream 2,000 feet wide and 30 feet high is creeping onward, but its progress has been somewhat retarded by the hilly nature of the country about the foot of the volcano.

The continued eruption has heightened the fears of earthquake. The devastating river of lava is nearing the sea, between Messina and Thormine, both of which places are crowded with panic stricken refugees.

Fascist troops were sent into some threatened villages to drive out the inhabitants. The people, dazed by fear were reluctant to flee from their homes.

Long lines of military motor lorries fill the roads, carrying the most valuable belongings of the villagers.

So far no loss of life has been reported, owing to the slowness of the lava river in spreading and the absence of earthquakes.

Smoke is rolling from the crater of Vesuvius, but so far this volcano has not joined Etna in active eruption. Precautionary measures are being taken to safeguard the residents about Vesuvius.

The spectacle of Etna during the night made a grand but terrifying scene. A steady rain of red hot lava poured upward, lighting the sky with its fiery glow. The glare could be seen for 200 miles.

As the flame and lava vomited skyward, accompanied by thunderous detonations, spurts of dense black smoke and steam rolled from the burning mountain top. There was a steady flow of lava and cinders.

The slowly moving fire was setting fire to vineyards, groves and dwellings. Beneath the orange glow in the sky was a dense pall of smoke which died in the wind from the sea.

Tourists watched the terrible spectacle spellbound. Some even traveled from Rome to get a glimpse of the tragic grandeur. It seemed as though nature were in action with her heaviest artillery in this battle against the works of man.

Premier Benito Mussolini, who has been in Florence, sent word that he would leave at once for Catania to aid the rescue work.

Towards noon two divergent streams of lava began advancing upon Linguaglossa. The outlying villages of Catena and Cerro were submerged and destroyed making 300 additional families homeless.

The damage is mounting steadily by millions of dollars.

LINER IN PORT WITH NEW RECORD

New York, June 20.—The White Star liner Majestic, the first "bone dry" ship to arrive, established a new speed record when it came into port. Covering the extreme southern course of 3,196 miles, the Majestic sped from Cherbourg to Ambrose light in five days, 12 hours and 18 minutes, which is half an hour less than its own previous record. Except for 36 gallons of brandy in its doctor's stores, the Majestic was said to be thoroughly dry in compliance with the Volstead law and supreme court rulings. Passengers consumed all of the other liquor aboard, so that the vessel might not reach America "wet." When the ship was provisioned at Southampton each passenger made out a requisition based on his estimate of his liquid capacity.

KING BORIS HAS SEVERAL TRADES

Paris, June 20.—Tsar Boris III of Bulgaria is quoted in a Paris paper as follows: "While I do not expect to lose my throne as a result of the revolution in my country, it would not frighten me if I did. For I would go right to America and get a job. I've got lots of trades, including locomotive engineer and racing automobile driver, while if mechanics should fall there is no reason why I should not get a job as a university professor."

The marriage of Miss Marie J. Piste, and Mr. Thomas H. Neville, both of this city, was solemnized at St. Brigid's Catholic Church, Wednesday morning at seven-thirty o'clock, the Rev. Albert A. Burke officiating.

A large company of relatives and friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony. The attendants were Miss Katherine Kelbie, and Mr. Walter Neville, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's dress was fashioned of white satin, along simple lines, and a tulle veil added a pretty effect. Her flowers, white roses, arranged in a shower. Miss Kelbie, wore a gown of green, and carried red roses.

Following the marriage the members of the bridal party breakfasted at the Elk's Club. Mr. and Mrs. Neville left on a honeymoon trip to Toledo, and upon their return will reside in the Binder apartments, on East Main Street.

Mr. Neville is employed as operator at the Orphum theater.

Penbrook Resident Tells About Her Remarkable Recovery

MRS. ANNIE PAGE

Mrs. Annie Page, highly esteemed resident of 3238 Main Street, Penbrook, Pa., is another who is enjoying splendid health as a result of the Tanlac treatment.

"What Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. Page, "is too wonderful for words to express. For six or seven years I had been troubled with rheumatism in my arms. I couldn't even wash the dishes, or peel the potatoes, and, in fact, my arms were just about useless.

"My health was also bad otherwise. My stomach was all out of order. I couldn't get a good night's sleep and often had dizzy headaches. I had just about given up hope of ever getting well.

"But Tanlac helped me from the start and now I haven't a rheumatic pain or an ailment of any kind. I eat and sleep like a child, and while I am 63, I don't feel a bit over 40. Nothing is too good to say for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere. adv

P. R. R. TO PAY GOVERNMENT $90,000,000 FOR WAR CLAIMS.

An agreement to pay into the Treasury $90,000,000 has been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad as in final settlement between the railroad and the Government of all accounts arising out of the war-time Federal control.

The Pennsylvania's payment will reimburse the Government for the cost of a large number of additions and betterments made to its lines during the period of Government control, which over-balanced all of the road's claims against the Treasury for damages, undermaintenance and other items.

"The Director General of Railroads has effected a final settlement with the twenty-four companies comprising the Pennsylvania system for financial accounting arising during the twenty-six months' period of Federal control." Director General Davis said in a statement. "After an adjustment of all accounts between the Government and these railroads there is a balance due the Government, largely on account of capital expenditures, of $90,000,000. Under the law this amount will be funded by the Government, the railroad giving properly secured paper for the ultimate payment of same.

"This completes the largest adjustment which has been or will be before the Railroad Administration. The tonnage carried by the Pennsylvania system represents about one-tenth of the total traffic handled by Class 1 roads of this country, and the equipment, freight cars, locomotives and passenger cars represent about the same proportion of the equipment of Class 1 roads."

The Railroad Administration has now settled the accounts arising from Federal control of companies which own 86 per cent of the country's rail mileage. While most of the settlements have involved payments by the Government to railroads, several companies have returned money or securities, evidencing indebtedness to the Treasury.

OUR LEADING INDUSTRY.

The growth of population, industry and wealth in the United States are subjects frequently paraded, but we have overlooked the real phenomenon, which is the growth of government. Americans are perhaps the most governed people in the world, says the Yakima, Washington, Daily Republic.

Nation, state, county and city all bestow a share and take a share of tribute.

And government makes business for itself. Whenever we see it we see it growing, expanding, reproducing itself. Whenever a seed of it falls, in soil however barren, it shoots up and flowers, a full blown plant, almost overnight.

Millions of Americans live on government; derive their support from the organizations society has formed to collect and spend the public revenues, to make and enforce laws and to administer the common affairs.

Government, then, is a leading American industry, a contemporary concludes. No other industry receives and spends such a revenue, employs such numbers or contributes so little to the common affairs.

Government, then, is a leading American industry, a contemporary concludes. No other industry receives and spends such a revenue, employs such numbers or contributes so little to the national wealth.

Probably America will have to find a way sometime to check the growth of government, or it will monopolize the soil and choke all other growths. The wealth-producing industries cannot keep pace with it. Senator Smoot has said that if congress sets up a new government bureau with three officials and $25,000, it will, within a very short time, grow to 20 times that size and require a million dollars.

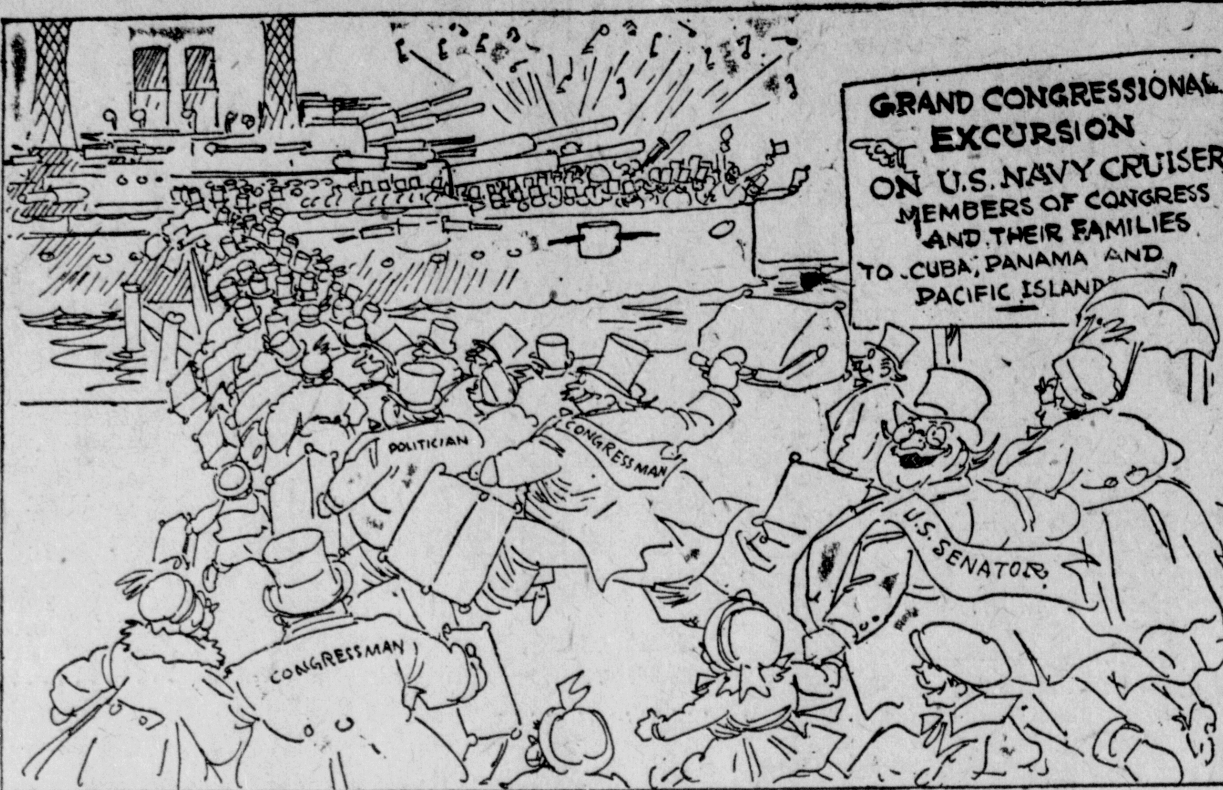

To have more government than we need is just as wasteful as to prepare more food for dinner than we can eat.

THE CAREER.

Thousands leaving school and college are naturally much concerned as to the choice of a career. A questionnaire presented to the graduating class at Harvard, founded as a college to train ministers, show eight entering the ministry and ninety-six going into business, with eighty-nine choosing the law and forty-four expressing a preference for banking. Medicine and teaching will engage the trained effort of thirty-eight and thirtytwo, respectively. Other callings show a scattering of the fire of youth among various objectives.

Young men and women standing where brook and river meet at commencement time should not feel disheartened if they feel they have not yet made their ultimate choice of a career. A large proportion of the most successful college graduates tried several things before they discovered what they could do to best advantage. He who vacillates year after year may find himself jack of all trades, master of none. But a reasonable amount of time used in ascertaining the most fruitful employment of one's talents is not misspent. In almost any profession, experience gained in a totally different field of activity may be of very great value.

THE MANICURE

Begin your manicure by assembling all your tools on a convenient low table. You'll want a towel, a bowl of very warm soapy water, with a little perfume or lemon juice in it if you want the manicure to be specially refreshing, a long flexible nail file, a file with an end for cleaning under the nails, an orange wood stick, one end wrapped in a little cotton, manicure scissors, emery paper, buffer, polishing paste or powder, and a small jar of any sort of cream. You can include a little pumice powder, or cuticle solvent, if you use anything extra for removing the dead skin. But these last aren't really necessary.

File your nails to which ever shape best suits your hand—a moderate, pointed oval is safest. Soak the finger tips a few minutes in the warm water, clean under the nails smooth them off with the emery board, slip the blades of the scissors under each corner of the nail and clip off the rough bits which collect. Ordinarily, pushing back the surrounding skin will be enough. But in some cases, powdered pumice must be rubbed around the nail, soaked off and the skin cut smooth—or any one of the patented solvents may be used. As these methods are drying, a special amount of cream is necessary afterwards or the nails will become dry and brittle. In most cases, however, pushing back the skin, then using the buffer vigorously with the polishing powder and clipping off the rough bits of skin which the powder shows up, is quite enough. Wash off the powder and rub in cream. Let the cream stay on as long as possible, wipe around each nail with the cotton wrapped end of the orange stick, and polish once more with a clean buffer, or the same one wiped free of powder.

Today's Talk

MY BELOVED BLUE

God must have loved blue very much, for He made it one of His three primary colors from which all colors would come.

The blue sky, the blue sea, the blue bird, the soft blue in a pair of eyes—the "wild, sweet blue" of the bluebell flower.

No wonder the stars are set in the blue sky! Beauty and blue—the two couldn't be separated.

Nor is it strange that the Indian mind was so deeply impressed with this same beautiful blue. To them it was "the mystic blue."

I dress my books in leather that has been made blue—and thereupon I love them just that much more.

My favorite stone is the blue sapphire and I wear two little fellows in a ring on my left little finger, and they look up and smile at me as I type these Talks from day to day.

And O, the beautiful blue of the sky in the half-tropics, holding out a moon that, drops its rays to dance upon an ocean of blue! Or that same sky—though different in its mood of blue—hovering above the vast desert on a still, cool night.

How the artists of the Orient love to weave their rich and magnificent colorings upon a background of blue! What a cosmic soul has this beloved blue!

I carry a picture in my mind of glorious sunset in the mountains. Had been riding all day—winding in and out—until we came to a peaceful lake hidden among the great high heaps of earth. Like a great jewel set under the blue of that sky was this water of blue—such deep, inspiring blue. And the colors of that sunset that put its arms about that scene took on the beauty of an Australian opal with its brilliant and indescribable rarity.

How gently does the beautiful blue breathe out its influence! How happy it makes us.

MORE THAN 200 IN ATTENDANCE HERE AT ALUMNI BANQUET

Arthur S. Kany, Dayton, of the class of 1902 was elected president of the Central High School Alumni Association to succeed Clarence K. Horen, class of 1916, at the annual reception to the new graduates and dinner held in the new Central High Building Tuesday night and attended by more than 200.

Phillip Moore, of the class of 1921, was elected vice president and Miss Florence Mitchell class of 1913, treasurer. Miss Margaret Wead, class of 1917, continued in office having been elected last year to serve several years as secretary.

Classes as far back as 1835 were represented at the annual affair there being one member each from the classes of 1886, 1887, 1889, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1897, 1900 and 1901. From 1900 until the present every class was represented with one or more members with the exception of the classes of 1906 and 1914. The new class of 1923 had the largest representation with 30 of its 81 members present, and the classes of 1922 and 1919 were next highest with 12 each in attendance. There were 11 members each present from the classes of 1920 and 1921, seven each from the classes of 1908 and 1918 and five each from the classes of 1902, and 1913 and 1917 while six were present of the class of 1903.

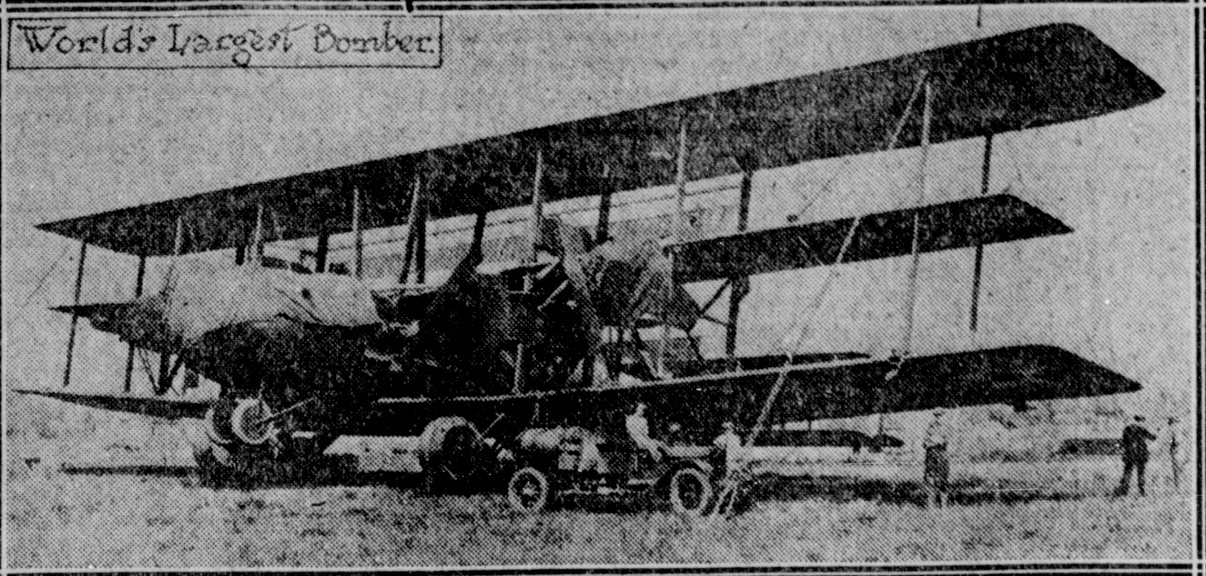

Officers of the association were in the receiving line that greeted the guests. Dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany in the cafeteria of the new school building, the dining room being crowded. There C. K. Horen, president of the Association, delivered the welcome address to the incoming class of 1923 to which Miss Alicia Monroe, class vice president, responded. The menu consisted of chicken patties, potatoes, peas, pickles, fruit salad, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee.

Following the dinner a brief business session was held during which Miss Margaret Wead, secretary and Miss Julia Wolf, treasurer, gave their reports. Officers were then elected and Mr. Kany responded with a speech of acceptance. The guests were then entertained in the Joan E. Elwell Auditorium with a one-act playlet, "The Trysting Place," cleverly presented by a cast including Mrs. Clara G. Reutinger, Miss Elsie Weber, John Sutton, Miss Clara Marshall, Fred Flynn, Charles A. Bone and John R. Beacham. The cast directed by Miss Jean E. Elwell gave an excellent interpretation of the light play. Preceding the playlet, the Rev. W. T. Tifford solicited the support of members present for the Community Recreation Association. Following the play the guests danced in study halls on the third floor, the Novelty sextette furnished the music.

Some of the returning graduates did not sign the register kept by A. C. Bales and others failed to give their class number. Those who signed follow: Fern Jack, Jessie Carruthers, Woods D. ## WORLD'S LARGEST BOMBER NEARS COMPLETION

The greatest bombing airplane the world has ever seen has been almost completed at Wilbur Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, and is undergoing her ground tests, preliminary to flying. Lieutenants Harold R. Harris and Leigh

Wade, with a crew of ten men, will man the ship. It has a wing spread of 120 feet, a fuselage of 65 feet and a gasoline tank capable of carrying 2,120 gallons. It mounts seven machine guns and will carry 12,000 pounds of bombs. The War Department is planning even larger machines. The Barling, as it is called, weighs 20 tons, and two big tractors are necessary to haul it out of its hangar. It is powered with six horsepower Liberty engines.

Then followed a picturesque sketch of the Antin's life in a tenement house of the Boston slums. She told of the exhortations of the old fashioned settlement workers that they, "The Antins, breathe plenty of fresh air," when there were no windows in their rooms; that they take frequent baths when the lack of the bath penny made more than one a week impossible. She told of the brave struggle of her mother "to do as you do," to serve her children with American food, much to their distaste, to put out her washing on Monday, according to American law. Later, when they were prosperous enough to be able to move to Dorchester, a Yankee settlement, she pictured with some little pathos the disappointment of her mother when her neighbors, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Thompson, left the section, because there were "too many Antins and Belinskys moving into Dorchester."

"That," said Miss Antin, is where the Americanization scheme breaks down. Do not understand me," she went on, "to belittle the work of such women as Jane Adams and her kind, but when it is your turn to propagate Americanism, don't go the long way around."

ARRIVE HERE FROM WORK AMONG JAPANESE

Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Schneider, of Sendai, Japan, and daughters, Misses Margaret, Mary and Clara, are guests at the home of Mr. Horace Ankeney west of this city. Dr. and Mrs. Schneider arrived in this country May 28, from Japan where Dr. Schneider is president of the Boys' School in the English College at Sendai.

Their daughter Miss Margaret, who is a commercial artist in New York, has been a guest at the Ankeney home for more than a week. She was joined here Monday by her parents and by her sisters, Miss Mary a teacher in a college in Japan and who is now enjoying a furlough in this country and Miss Clara is a teacher in the University of Montana.

SCHOOL FOR RURAL PASTOR IS OPENED IN OHIO CAPITAL

The Rev. E. W. Moyer pastor of the Beaver Reformed Church is among the Ohio pastors attending the third annual summer school for rural pastors, conducted under the auspices of the Ohio Federation of Churches, and the Ohio State University at Columbus.

Twenty-five ministers from rural and small town districts are attending the 15-day sessions.

Students at the school are kept busy from 7:15 a. m. until 9 p. m. daily. They are housed in fraternity and rooming houses, and in special sleeping quarters provided in social centers near the University.

Following the opening address, Tuesday by Dean Alfred Vivian, of the College of Agriculture, the Rev. Andrew W. Blackwood of Indianapolis Presbyterian Church, Columbus, addressed the student pastors on "The Ideal Preacher of Today."

"There are three sorts of strong preachers; the sermonizer, the pulpit orator and the pastoral evangelist," Dr. Blackwood said. "The first calls attention to his sermon, the second to himself, and the third to his message. The third man can best meet the needs of today."

TOWNSHIP WORK OF RED CROSS GIVEN

The work of the Red Cross in Silvercreek Township during the past several months was discussed at a meeting of the members of the Red Cross Committee at Jamestown, with Miss Louise H. Shaffer, county executive secretary, last week.

Three hundred and twenty-nine children have been examined by the Red Cross nurse last winter in that township. Of this number 239 were in the Jamestown white school; 35 in the Jamestown colored school; 24 children in the Myers school; 20 children in the Junkins school; 11 children in the Schooley school. Of this number 199 had defective vision; 176 had defective teeth, 90 had defective nose, 114 had defective throat, 31 had enlarged glands, 76 were 7 percent or more underweight and 15 were 20 percent or more overweight, and 6 had bad posture. Calls have been made on the parents of 49 of the children. Several had corrective work done soon after the inspection was made.

This spring the Red Cross nurse in three lessons demonstrated methods of caring for the sick in the home, bedmaking, baths, care of the baby and practical bedside suggestions every woman should understand, to a class of 22 High School girls in the Jamestown school. Seven crippled children are listed by the Red Cross from Silvercreek Township. Arrangements have been made for four children from Silvercreek Township to attend the tonsil and adenoid clinic to be held by the Red Cross soon. Bedding and clothing were given one family last winter. Arrangements have been made for chest examinations for three children.

WORN NERVES

Nervous troubles, with backaches, dizzy spells, queer pains and irregular kidneys, give reason to suspect kidney weakness and to try the remedy that has helped your neighbors. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Mary Mattox, 12 Leaman St., Xenia, says: "My kidneys became disordered and I suffered a great deal from pains in my back. My back seemed to throb and there was a steady ache across it just over my kidneys. My back was sore and lame and felt so knotted up at times I could hardly move. Sharp pains shot through my back when I stooped over and I was dizzy and nervous as well as tired and worn out. My kidneys were irregular in action. My bladder became inflamed and my condition became serious. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly praised so I got some at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store. A few boxes did excellent work for me. The troubles left and I again knew what good health meant."

Styles BY LENORE

What seemed at first a luxury is proving to be a most useful item in the wardrobe of women whose habits of dress demand that every bit of clothes they buy should unquestionably fill a definite need. The silk coat has undoubtedly established itself as a worthy addition to the summer outfit. And fashion has marked it with an unmistakable O. K.

It simplifies the problem of what to wear when you are invited to lunch or tea and you expect the day to turn cool before you return home. It is of just the comfortable weight to wear over a light frock on days when a coat of woolen material would be too heavy. And it also solves the problem of what to wear when you are invited out to dinner at the home of a friend or at a smart hotel and a more formal wrap is not strictly necessary.

In the sketch today is shown a model which I have seen frequently worn by well-dressed women. Crepe Marocain is a favorite material, and black the color most preferred. The long graceful wing sleeves make this a model most becoming to the at least fairly tall women. Tucking, no doubt the outcome of the voyage for pleating, is an easy means of giving character to this type of coat, except when it is cut on the slender Egyptian silhouette, and then embroidery is usually employed.

GIVES RULING ON TRANSPORTATION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

That transportation of children to high schools is never unavoidably compulsory, is the substance of instructions mailed to County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman by Vernon M. Reigel, state director of education.

The opinion of the state director shows that a board of education is not required to pay the transportation of high school pupils of a high school of the first, second or third grade is maintained in the district, no matter how far the pupils may live from said high school and that if there is no high school of the first, second or third grade in the district, the board must furnish transportation to high school pupils who live more than four miles from a high school outside the district or it must provide instruction in high school branches in an elementary school as authorized by Section 7648 of the General Code, within four miles of the residence of any high school pupil.

The opinion was rendered by State Director Reigel because of misinterpretation and misunderstandings of the Bing Law which required transportation and which has been the subject of much contention on the part of boards of education it is said the opinion declares that in state aid districts no allowance will be made for transportation of high school pupils unless it can be shown that a high school of the first, second or third grade could not be established and that it is impossible to provide instruction in high school branches in an elementary school as provided in Section 7648 of the General Code, within four miles of the residences of pupils.

The information from the State Director is expected to greatly clear the muddle that has been caused on the transportation question among district boards. County Superintendent Aultman is sending out copies of the letter to all boards with the added suggestion under the recent ruling of the Attorney General that the funding of debts required under the law to initiate the pay as you go system cannot be started before the law becomes effective July 27, although its provisions require it to be done as of July 1.

KAR AND HUCKLE TO MEET

Chillicothe, O. June 20—In the self-same ring wherein Johnny Kilbane was wont to strut his stuff during the war days of Camp Sherman, while stationed at the local cantonment as army boxing instructor, Johnny Kar, World War hero, of Cleveland, and Wally Hinckle, welterweight challenger for the crown of Mickey Walker, will show their fistie wares here on Independence Day. The bout will be held under the auspices of the Ross County Post, American Legion.

Workmen today began the task of fitting out some 2000 anxious fight fans with seats, for it is estimated that this number will flock to the Old Metropolis to view the fight—the stellar event on Ohio's fistie program for the day.

The bout, which far overshadows anything held here in recent years, will be staged at Recreation Field—a community ball lot—in the afternoon. When the question of building a ring popped up it was recalled that in a deserted spot behind the grandstand at Tech Field Camp Sherman's athletic arena, the old ring in which so many soldier fights had been staged, lay wasting away. So it was recalled to duty, but at a new station. The ring was moved to Recreation Field and set up today.

GIBBONS IS MAN OF MYSTERY.

By Davis J. Walsh.

Shelby, Mont., June 20.—He may fall financially and physically to wrest the elusive greenback from Shelby's depleted resources and the heavyweight title from Jack Dempsey July 4. He may even be fanned for the fatal ten, but whatever may happen to Tom Gibbons on the afternoon in question, his effort must of necessity go down on the books as that of a man trained to the split second.

Gibbons is and will be as physically fit as human flesh can hope to be. He is at once the mystery and the pride of this forsaken town, which alternately chokes in clouds of dust and wallows in mire, ankle deep, as it attempts to laugh off the dream plan that caused it to bid for the championship bout.

Gibbons is the pride, because, as a man, he is one of the most popular individuals this side of the Mississippi. He is the mystery because as a fighter no human eye can forecast he will be able to stand up under the seeking that Dempsey is disposed to visit upon his victims. Shelby would be pleased to know just how Gibbons' perfectly tuned anatomy will react to the Dempsey attack. It is more than casually interested in view of the fact that it would like to take some of the short end money, if it could only be certain that Bucks tossed upon the waters will return after several days. It has had an ample sufficiency of gambling on long shots, such as promoting prize fights for the sake of showing the country at large what a Montana sport will do when his soul craves action.

RESERVES BOOK FORESTERS

With two straight victories to their credit, the Xenia Reserves will tackle the Dayton Foresters at Reserve Park Cincinnati Avenue, next Sunday afternoon.

The Reserves management attempted to book the Dayton Racers, but finding that team without an open date, will bring the Foresters here on the assurance that the latter club is as good if not better than the Racers.

The Reserves will lineup about the same as last Sunday when they defeated the St. Paris Moose, with Wical doing the pitching. The Reserves management has arranged with the Dayton and Xenia bus line to run buses to the park from Main and Detroit streets every 15 minutes from 1:30 until three o'clock. A new grandstand seating 1,000 fans has been lately erected at the Park and parking space for automobiles is provided.

Prizes with each 100 tickets sold at the gate are being announced, and a box of cigars, a woman's umbrella or a $2 bill will be offered. Admission at the gate will be 25 cents for men, 10 cents for women and for children over five years of age. The Reserves will practice Friday night at six o'clock.

VETERAN'S SON IN RING.

Dayton, June 20.—"Bob" Fitzsimmons, Jr., son of the great "Ruby Robert" ex-heavyweight champ and world's greatest fighter has been matched with Joe Lohman of Toledo for a 12 round decision contest at North Side Ball Park Friday night, June 29.

Young Bob is a comer among the young crop of heavyweights and has beaten most of the present white hopes including Martin Burke. He has inherited many tricks and much ring craft from his father and is the possessor of a tremendous punch and with more experience may be a serious contender for title in the near future. In facing Lohman, himself a very fast big feller who just gave Floyd Johnson a licking, he will have to show all of his tricks to earn a decision. Just recently in a local ring, Lohman gave Bill Reed 20 pounds and a licking, making a favorable impression with local fans.

JOHNSON BETS ON WILLARD

New York June 20—Vanquished paid tribute to victor here today. Floyd Johnson, who fell beneath blows of Jess Willard in their meeting last month, wagered $5,000 that the Kansas Giant will flatten Luis Firpo when the two meet in Jersey City, July 12.

"I met Willard—I know," says Johnson.

SCOUT TROOP TO MEET

There will be a full meeting of Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America, at the Presbyterian Church Thursday evening at seven o'clock according to announcement of Scoutmaster Walter L. Jobe. Important business will be transacted at the meeting.

BOUNDARY LINES OF XENIA VOTING PRECINCTS CHANGED

Boundary lines of three Xenia City precincts were changed by the Greene County Board of Elections in meeting Tuesday night in order to make the number of voters in city precincts more uniform, and facilitate the work of counting.

The changes were worked out in anticipation of the coming primary and election because of conditions found at the election last fall, when some precincts almost doubled others adjoining in the number of votes. The new women voters created an increase that even the increase in the number of precincts from eight to 14 failed to distribute regularly.

Precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 8 and 9 were affected by the changes in the precinct boundaries made at Tuesday's meeting. Boundary lines between precincts one and two have been changed as follows: the north boundary of precinct two or the south boundary of precinct one will be from the intersection of Second and West Streets west on Second Street to the west corporation line. The previous boundary line was from the intersection of Main and West streets west to Orange, south on Orange to Second and thence west to the west corporation line. The change will distribute some of the voters of Precinct two into the less populous Precinct one.

An irregular boundary line between the fourth and fifth precincts has been created to throw about 150 votes from Precinct 5 which voted more than 500 last time into Precinct 4 which voted about 250. The new intersecting line will run from the intersection of West and Branch streets, east on Branch Street, to Galloway street, north on Galloway Street to Shawnee street, east on Shawnee street to King Street, north on King street to Union Street east on Union street to Detroit street. The old intersection line was Union street straight west from Detroit to West Street.

The change of the intersecting boundary line between the eighth and ninth precincts, will throw some of the voters in the large ninth precinct into the less populous eighth precinct by making Main street the intersecting line instead of Market street. Thus the new intersecting line will be from Main and Detroit street intersection east on Main to Leach street. The previous boundary was from Detroit and Market streets east on Market Street to Leach street.

The changes will distribute the voters more evenly between the precincts so that all votes should be counted within about the same period of time, considering the vote over the city normal. At the last election the officials in the more populous precincts were engaged for several hours longer at their task than the officials in some of the less populous precincts where in some cases, there were only one-half as many to count.

No other changes in the precinct boundaries were made at the meeting and the original boundaries will prevail for all other precincts in the county.

CONCERTED ACTION NECESSARY.

Cincinnati, June 20.—"Concerted action must be taken to purge this business of admitted vices," Harry L.
Conn, superintendent of insurance, said last night in an address before the Cincinnati Life Underwriters Association. "There are free booters among the companies, just as there are pirates among the agents, but, considering the volume of insurance and the hazards in it, and remembering that in most cases the parties to the contracts are total strangers, the results are a fine expression of the rugged honesty of the American people."

NEW WILBERFORCE TRUSTEE BOARD IN SESSION TUESDAY

The new Trustee Board of Wilberforce University held a meeting Tuesday after the reorganization to conform with the laws of Ohio governing universities and colleges. For years the school has been governed by a board of trustees from every annual conference in the United States from the Western, Southern and the Interior of Africa. The board was too large to transact the business of the school and the board at its meeting last year adopted plans for reorganization with a membership of twenty-one trustees.

Bishop J. H. Jones, the president, on account of illness was not able to attend the meeting and Bishops L. J. Ceppin and W. H. Heard of Philadelphia presided. President J. A. Gregg, submitted his annual report. The total registration for the year was 1,444 students. He recommended that the opening of the school be the second Tuesday in September instead of the third and that the closing date be the second Thursday instead of the third in June; that definite plans be worked to provide the school with an endowment that is absolutely necessary for the college life, and that honorary degrees be conferred as follows, LL.D., Hon. Leonidas C. Dyer, Bishop William Decker Johnson, Dr. Richard R. Wright; M. A., Chaplain O. J. Y. Scott.

The new board negotiated a loan from the Home Building and Savings Co., of Xenia to complete the rebuilding of Shorter Hall. The amount raised and paid on the building is $112,000. Plans were adopted to start another financial rally to raise $65,000 in the First Educational District, taking in the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan.

Dr. R. H. Wright, editor of The Christian Recorder, Philadelphia, the oldest paper published by colored people was the speaker for the Annual Address delivered to Literary Societies, Tuesday night.

Wednesday afternoon the first exercises will take place celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of Wilberforce University. Bishop J. M. Cooner, Little Rock, Ark., will preside. In the evening Bishop B. F. Lee will deliver the anniversary address. The 18th Episcopal District will have ten minute talks by representatives. Bishop W. T. Vernon, who has recently returned from South Africa, will speak of his work and the missionary fields in the interior districts where he and Mrs. Vernon have labored for some time.

Prof. John R. Hawkins, Financial Secretary, Washington, D. C., and a committee to complete plans for the holding of the next General conference May 1924, Louisville, Ky., will go in session Wednesday morning.

The Bishops' midsummer council is to convene Friday morning, with Bishop B. F. Lee, the Senior Bishop of the A. M. E. Church, will preside. The Bishops and general officers will be present. Several missionaries from foreign fields, who are in the states for a short vacation will make reports.

The annual prize speaking contest was held Monday evening and considerable enthusiasm was shown by the student body interested in the participants taking part in the orations for the R. A. Grant and Rust Prize, and the John A. Gregg prize. The prizes will be awarded by the judges after the commencement address Thursday morning. The judges are Miss Hallie Q. Brown, Prof. T. Bolden Stewart of Louisville, Ky., and Prof. A. S. Jackson of Waco, Texas. For the R. A. Grant and Rust Prize orations were delivered on the following subjects: "The Graduate Faces Life," Miss Katherine G. Randolph; "Education and the Negro," Miss Glendora Simpson; "Some Phases of Woman's Work," Miss Alice Stith; "Woman and the Social Reconstruction," Miss Naomi Cherot; "For the John A. Gregg Prize," "The Jack of the American Youth," Marcellus Henderson; "The Valor of the Negro Soldier," Frank C. Beane; "Better by Oppression," Toussaint L. Hale; "American Democracy Weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting," Mr. Benj. Hill.

LEVIATHAN AT SEA

Boston, June 20.—The reconditioned shipping board steamer Leviathan, finest vessel in the world, got underway for her six-day trial trip to Cuba, with the full complement of 600 guests aboard. She is due to brush by Bermuda on the way down, and to dock at Pier 86, North river, New York city, Sunday afternoon. The trial board came on early and are writing down the performance figures in the log.

Chairman Lasker and the members of the board received their guests from small craft, which steamed nearly 20 miles from Commonwealth pier to the vessel's anchorage.

Every housekeeper will want to put up at least a few jars of cherries this year. For there is no more decorative—not to say delicious—fruit to combine with a dainty salad or to garnish a tempting dessert. Can them as follows:

To Can Sweet Cherries—The orchard variety are perhaps best for canning—although sour cherries may be put up in a sweeter sirup with excellent results. Wash the cherries in cold water and pit them. Sterilize your glass jars by boiling them for 20 minutes, with their covers, in clear water. Drain and while still hot, pack them with the cherries. Whatever juice you saved when pitting the cherries, should now be added to the jar. Have ready a hot sirup made as follows: To six quarts of cherries allow three pounds of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water; combine and bring this sugar and water to a boil, then let continue to boil for ten minutes. Turn it over the fruit in the jars.

Now put a fresh rubber on the jar. (This rubber should be merely dipped for an instant in boiling water to sterilize it.) Then put on the glass cap of the jar. Partially seal—that is, put up the top wire, over cap, but do not press down side wire. Sink the jar into boiling water in your wash-boiler canner (stand it on a wire rack in the canner, so that the boiling water will circulate under the jar as well as around it), and watch closely to see when the water again starts to boil. When it does, let it continue to simmer for 16 minutes. It is best not to have this boiling water rise over the top of the jars; let it come to within an inch from the jar top. At the end of this 16-minute period of "processing" remove jar from the canner, completely seal (that is, press down side wire) and invert to cool and test for leaks. If it leaks, you must open it, put on a fresh rubber, and process for five minutes longer, partially sealed, as just described above, then completely seal and again test for leaks. I would advise all my Housekeeper Readers to send to Washington, D. C., for the Farmer's Bulletin No. 1214, entitled "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," which can be obtained without charge if you write to the Division of Publications, Washington, D. C., and ask for it.

DELEGATES ATTEND PRESBYTERIAL MEET IN SPRINGFIELD

More than 100 delegates including members from Xenia, Jamestown, Sugar Creek, Clifton, Cedarville, Columbus, New California Reynoldsburg and Springfield, are expected to attend the two day meeting of the Xenia Presbyterian Young Peoples' Societies, at Springfield, Wednesday and Thursday. Sessions began Wednesday at the Springfield First United Presbyterian Church with Miss Mildred Kyle of Springfield in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. Mr. Smith of Buffalo will be the speaker, for the occasion. He will open the session Wednesday night with a talk. His other talks will be given Thursday afternoon and night. A business session will be held Thursday morning, when officers will be elected.

Luncheon will be served at the Church and a dinner will be given at night.

Present officers of the organization are: President Miss Dorothy Collins, Clifton; secretary, Miss Lackey, of Jamestown; treasurer, Miss Mildred Kyle, Springfield. The Rev. Mr. McClure of Columbus is in charge of the young people's work for the presbyterial.

NORTH POLE NOW WITHIN SPEAKING DISTANCE OF U. S.

On board the schooner Bowdoin, Wiscasset, Maine, June 20—Radio to I. N. S. The North Pole is within speaking distance of the United States.

Such is the belief expressed here today by Doctor Donald B. MacMillan, intrepid arctic explorer. Saturday Dr. MacMillan will sail from this port to prove his contention.

His tiny eighty-eight foot schooner will be fully equipped with high powered wireless apparatus, from which he will attempt on every leg of his journey, to send messages of progress back to the states.

His message call of "W. N. T." will be looked for by every radio station first to advance the study this means of communication and later, when the Bowdoin is stealing her way through the ice lanes of the Arctic, to listen for messages of distress.

The expedition will be bade God speed by Gov. Percival Baxter Saturday afternoon.

Dr. MacMillan knows the Arctic as most men know their city streets. He was with Peary on his dash to the pole. The explorer believes his expedition will experience its greatest difficulty in reaching Cape Sabine—the farthest north point where the ship must be abandoned.

At this point Dr. MacMillan will erect a tablet for the national geographic society, in memory of the 18 members of the ill fated Greeley expedition of 1884 who lost their lives in helter-skelter endeavor to reach the polar region.

"The worst enemy of the explorer—the months of isolation from the world—will be missing this time," Dr. MacMillan said today. "We believe we will be able to pick up the concerts broadcast by American radio stations—entertainment and news of the world through the whole long wintered night."

The Bowdoin is the smallest vessel ever used in a polar dash.

"If we have to abandon it we will seek quarters with some Eskimo tribe, while a relief party, notified by wireless or our plight, can come to our rescue," MacMillan said.

Dr. MacMillan expects his dash will take sixteen months.

"I am very glad Captain Roald Amundsen has abandoned his proposed hop to the pole in a heavier than air machine—it meant certain death," he said. "I believe the day is near when a ship of the zeppelin type will reach the top of the world."

G. F. McDonald, Chicago radio manufacturer, is going as far as Battle Harbor, Labrador, with the party.

A small crew of seamen will run the ship.

CRAIG ASSURES NATALIE SHE DID NOT RIG—Chapter XXVI

Craig was down the steps of the club almost before Natalie stopped the car. With a gay salutation he jumped in and they started off, Natalie already in better spirits because of the thought of a pleasant day.

Craig was in high spirits and his gaiety was infectious. He told stories, making Natalie laugh as she hadn't in weeks. He kept away from personalities until they reached the Inn where they were to lunch, then he asked:

"Now tell me all about the burglary at your house. Have they found any of the stuff yet?"

"No, he had time to get away with it. Horace and his mother dived over their dinner so long that night."

Gradually Craig heard the story, except Horace's refusal to speak to Natalie, his treating her like a stranger. Craig's sympathy, his assurance that she had been right in demanding an apology before she gave one, heartened her, and made her oblivious of his light words of endearment. It was good to have someone understand and appreciate one.

"Why, they could have caught the burglar if they had listened to you; at least they would have searched for him and frightened him away. I should say it served them jolly well to be robbed after treating you like that!"

"That's just the way I felt, and I haven't been a bit sorry that Mrs. Crandell lost her jewels. I suppose I'm horrid but I can't help it," Natalie returned.

"Who could have imagined such a thing happening?" Craig went on. "You saw him, told them about him, and they dismissed it with a shrug." "Just as they dismiss me," Natalie said, a little of the bitterness she felt creeping in her voice. Never before had she given voice to her feeling, her unwanted presence in her husband's house. Craig looked keenly at her, but she was absorbed in her thoughts.

"You shouldn't allow it. You should assert yourself," he said after a moment. "People as a rule impose upon those who do not."

Natalie wholeheartedly agreed with him, although she did not say so. Why let him know she never before had dared to assert herself? In her own home? It had taken something very unusual, something that had reacted upon her to such an extent as to destroy her fear of consequences, to give her the courage needed to stand up against her mother-in-law and her husband.

Yet Natalie did not believe Horace would hold out against her. He couldn't! He knew she loved him, that she had told the truth about the burglar, that she had been terribly frightened and had received no sympathy.

The two had a gay little luncheon. Craig occasionally referring to Natalie's experience, telling her how brave she had been and so forth. Afterward they rode on into the country, but Natalie watched the time and turned the car in time to get home for dinner.

Never since she married had she remained out to dinner without Horace. Things were strained enough between them without giving him real cause for complaint. She knew how he felt about being absent at meal time—and, although dinner was now a meal of silent torture to her, she had no idea of evading that torture by remaining out.

Craig spoke of the street fair. He was managing a booth. He said: "I wish you would help us. Natalie. We are selling cigarettes and smokers' outfits. You would make a stunning Spanish girl."

"Perhaps I will if you ask me nicely," she replied. She would let Beverly Rainford see she couldn't ignore her.

Craig was delighted, told her who was working with him in the booth, and together they planned her costume.

"The success of our booth is assured," he said gleefully, "and besides, I shall have you with me for two days. I'd buy everything put on sale in my store for that privilege. I wonder, Natalie, if you realize how beautiful you are, what a temptation!"

Natalie laughed, led Craig out at his club and went home filled with childlike delight that she was to have a chance to show Beverly Rainford she could take part in the fair.

BREAKFAST IS MADE OR MARRED

By The Coffee That Is Served
"E" Brand Always Starts The Day Right

---IT IS SO GOOD---BECAUSE

At the end of an imperfect day did you ever stop to think back over the whole thing and realize that things started wrong with a cup of disappointing coffee at breakfast? Both stomach and temper were put out of tune and the entire day seemed full of vexations. Many a man and woman has just missed a successful day by so small a thing as a cup of poor coffee.

"E" BRAND NEVER DISAPPOINTS

The fragrant, appetizing aroma that greets your nostrils with the first wiff of the breakfast is only a prophecy of the rich, mellow flavor and zestful tang that you will find in the cup. It will clear the sleep languor out of your brain and send you out wide awake, brisk and full of pep. Whether made in large quantities or small it has the same delicious, satisfying quality.

"E" Brand is the finest grade coffee. No better grows. It is selected with great care after long experimenting to find a coffee that will measure up fully to the high standard demanded by a firm that has sold "Quality products for fifty years." It contains no chaff or other by-product to give it a bitter taste. It is steel cut and comes to you ALWAYS FRESH ROASTED, and hermetically sealed.

ARE YOU WILLING TO BE CONVINCED

that there is a better coffee than the one you are using? If so we urge you to try "E" Brand at once. You will be astonished that so wonderful a coffee can be sold at so low a price. YOU CANNOT LOSE ONE PENNY on a trial of "E" Brand coffee. If you are not perfectly satisfied that it is the best coffee you ever got for the money we insist that you return the partly empty sack to the grocer from whom you bought it and he will refund every cent you paid for it. Could any fairer arrangement be made? With your next grocery order include a package of "E" Brand. It will delight you.

HARDING PARTY LEAVES ON TRIP ON WEDNESDAY

Presidential Trip to Have
Vital Bearing On Next
Year's Campaign

COVERS 15,000 MILES

Chief Executive to Deliver
Address On World Court
Thursday

Washington, June 20.—President Harding began today the transcontinental tour that will put to the test the record of his administration thus far and his program for the next congress, the last before the national election of November, 1924.

To the middle west and the west, the states which the Republican party builds its hopes of victory next year, the president will carry his message. There will be no evasion of issues on the president's tour. Controversial subjects—the world court, transportation problems, the difficulties of the farmer, immigration, taxation and the tariff—loom large on the Harding program of speeches.

The president's address on the world court will be delivered tomorrow in St. Louis, the stronghold of Senator James A. Reed, irreconcilable and opponent of the administration plan for joining the permanent court of international justice. Republican leaders are watching with interest for the first reactions to the president's remarks. Eighteen other speeches are included on the president's program and trailed political observers are ready to report to Republican national headquarters in Washington the response of the people to the chief executive's utterances.

From St. Louis the president goes to Kansas City, where he will deliver another prepared address on Friday. This speech will deal with the nation's transportation problem. At Hutchinson, Kansas, Mr. Harding will discuss agricultural questions. Other places at which the president will speak are: Denver, June 25; Cheyenne, June 26; Salt Lake City, June 26; Pocatello, Idaho, June 28; Helena, June 29; Spokane, June 29; Portland, July 4; Tacoma, July 5.

The president will leave Tacoma for Alaska, on July 5, and will reach Seattle on the return voyage on July 27. He will deliver addresses at Vancouver, B. C., July 26, Seattle, July 27, San Francisco, July 31; Los Angeles, Aug. 1; and San Diego, Aug. 4. From San Diego, the president and his party will sail for the Atlantic Coast via the Panama Canal and Porto Rico.

Final Conferences Held.
The president's tour will be the longest ever taken by any chief executive except William Howard Taft, now chief justice of the supreme court. Taft, on his famous "swing-around-the-circle" while president, covered 15,077 miles, twenty more than the Harding tour contemplates. Harding will be away from the capital for two months.

Two members of his official family to confer at length with the president before his departure were Attorney General Daugherty and Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. The president regards prohibition enforcement as the most embarrassing problem confronting the federal government and wished to go over the situation personally with Mr. Haynes.

Prohibition enforcement was also the feature of the president's conference with Mr. Daugherty, to whom has been referred the question of using the army and navy to deal with violators of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. The attorney-general, it is understood, informed his chief that, as yet, no final draft of a decision had been completed. Existing laws of congress, it was stated, must be modified before the president would be warranted in using either army or navy for prohibition enforcement. Mr. Daugherty also took up with president a number of cases dealing with certain "political" prisoners serving sentences in federal penitentiaries for violations of war time legislation.

ONE IS KILLED IN ATTACK ON JAIL

Savannah, Ga., June 20.—One man is dead and several others are wounded as a result of an attempted jail delivery here early today.

A mob estimated by Savannah officers to include more than 3,000 men stormed the jail shortly after midnight in an unsuccessful effort to secure a Negro accused of assaulting a white woman.

The jail today is under heavy guard by the state militia, which was called out when some 150 officers decided they were unable to protect their prisoner. Further violence was not expected.

REPUBLICAN WINS

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 20.—Arthur B. Williams, Republican, Battle Creek attorney, was elected congressman from the third district to succeed the late John M. C. Smith, of Charlotte, defeating Claude S. Carney, of Kalamazoo, Democrat, by 456 votes at the Tuesday election. The vote: Williams 9,046; Carney 8,580.

TWELVE LIVES TAKEN BY HEAT WAVE IN STATE

Weather Bureau Holds Out
No Hopes for Lower
Temperature

Cleveland, June 20.—A heat wave, preceding the official arrival of summer tomorrow, today had claimed twelve lives throughout the state, and the United States Weather Bureau held out no hopes for lower temperatures at least for a day or so. Five persons were dead in Cleveland as a result of the extreme heat, three in Cincinnati and one each at Piqua, Conneaut, Laurelville and Wegee. An unusual number of drownings were recorded when people sought relief from the blistering rays of the June sun in streams and lakes.

Late yesterday black storm clouds gave promise of a shower that would relieve the torridity in Cleveland, but a breeze blew the clouds eastward before they could precipitate any cooling moisture upon the perspiring land.

In addition to the deaths, a number of cases of heat prostrations were reported throughout the state.

Telephone Girl Wins Beauty Honors

Miss Dorothy Watson, of St. Paul, Minnesota, pretty seventeen year old telephone operator, has been acclaimed the most beautiful girl in St. Paul and is the proud possessor of a compete in a national beauty contest to be held in New York. The winner, according to present plans, will be given an opportunity to enter the movies.

SHORTAGE CLOSES BANK.

Wichita, Kan., June 20.—The American State bank, one of the strongest banks in Kansas, closed its doors, following the discovery of the defalcation of $1,500,000 by Philip A. Drumm, cashier, the Wichita clearing house announced. The cashier used the bank's funds to invest heavily in oil properties, bank officers stated. Drumm confessed, according to clearing house officials.

TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES

Miss Margaret Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Davis, of South Detroit Street, arrived home Sunday morning from Oberlin College, for a short visit with her parents. She left Tuesday night for Cleveland, going directly from there for the Goodrich settlement estate, located near Hudson, Ohio. Miss Davis will assume the duties of recreational director of the girls work and will have charge of all dramatic work with both boys and girls. She will be located there until September 6.

SCARBOROUGH DELIVERS ADDRESS

BRAKEMAN KILLED WHEN TRAIN JUMPS TRACK, HITTING HOUSE

Tree Broken Off By Impact Falls Into Bedroom of House
But Occupants Escape Injury—Other Members
of Crew Are Unhurt

Dayton, O., June 20.—F. A. Landis, brakeman on the West-Ohio Freight Line, and electric railroad was instantly killed at 5 a. m. this morning when the six car train, plunging down hill struck a curve, was derailed, broke off a large tree and crashed into a double house at Sidney.

The impact of the train sent the tree crashing into the bedroom occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Orth Simms. The tree fell across their bed but they were not injured.

The cars following the tree smashed in one side of the house. Landis is believed to have jumped and was found crushed to death beneath the trucks. Other members of the crew remained in their car and escaped injury.

AFRICAN PRESIDENT TO BE SENTENCED

New York, June 20.—Marcus Garvey, "president of Africa," sits in a cell with his ear to the door listening for the tom-toms of the "African legion" that he expects to save him from doing a term for using the United States mails to defraud negroes of the United States of $1,000,000.

But the "legion" will not come and the African Napoleon is going away from here for quite a spell tomorrow, when Judge Mack hands out his sentence. The United States attorney told the court that Garvey had organized the "African legion" and had armed them for any contingency. The prosecutor said: "There is positive danger if Marcus Garvey is allowed at large at this time. We have evidence showing that he used some of the funds he collected to purchase guns and ammunition. He is head of the African legion, which will stop at nothing to protect Marcus Garvey."

Garvey, it was charged, used the mails to defraud in selling stock of the Black Star line, which was to build a fleet of ships to take the negro back to Africa, there to be ruled by the benign Marcus.

DONAHEY GRANTS FULL PARDON TO BOY

Columbus, O., June 20.—Governor Donahey announced today that he has granted a full and unconditional pardon to Carmi Worthington, Zanesville boy, who has been held in the Mansfield Reformatory since January 20, on a charge of having taken a mortgaged automobile into another state, in violation of law.

The pardon was recommended by the state pardon and parole board, following receipt of a letter from the trial judge, C. C. Lemert, of the Muskingum County Common Pleas Court, and County Prosecutor C. A. Mitchell, who both recommended that Worthington be pardoned.

YOUTH IS SOUGHT.

Cincinnati, June 20.—Police are seeking David Goetz, 21 years old, as a result of the shooting of his aunt, Mrs. Nettie Doerr, 38, at whose residence, 406 Wagner Street, he made his home. A bullet wound in her scalp she explained as accidental, but the youth vanished. An argument was said to have preceded the shooting.

DENBY FAVORS NEW PARLEY TO SOLVE PROBLEM

Secretary Thinks Meeting
Would Clear Up De-
batable Questions

VIOLATION ALLEGED

Spirit of Pact Said to Have
Been Affected by Great Britain

Washington, June 20.—Revelation in news dispatches of Great Britain's violation of the spirit if not the letter of the five-power naval treaty by constructing a super-submarine carrying a 12-inch gun created a stir in the state and navy departments.

Naval authorities charged with responsibility for maintaining the nation's first line of defense frankly admitted that this surprising development, coming close after other advantages, disclosed to have resulted to other powers from the conference on limitation of armaments, leaves the United States in a hopelessly inferior position, unless the situation is corrected.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, after discussing the various matters which recently have arisen in connection with the naval pact, including the 12-inch submarine gun, declared he was in favor of an international interchange of opinions or another international conference, if necessary, to clear up all these "debatable" questions.

The two foremost questions which have come up thus far are the right of Great Britain to retain the super-submarine, and whether or not the United States is prevented, as Great Britain claims, from increasing the elevation on guns on capital ships so as to give them equal range with that of the British dreadnaughts.

Secretary Denby emphasized that he was speaking solely for himself and that he had not had any consultation with the secretary of state. He had not decided, he added, whether he would suggest an international conference or interchange of interpretations of the pact before or after congress is convened in December. He leans to the early settlement of the questions. This proposed resubmission to the signatory nations of what the secretary calls "debatable" questions is specifically provided for in the treaty. What view Secretary Hughes will take, however, has not been ascertained.

American navy experts are equally resentful against those whose duty it was to protect the interests of their country against the conniving representatives from abroad as against Great Britain's concealment of the fact that she had "laid down" the monster submarine. These experts say retention of this craft would be a clear violation of the treaty, or so near a violation that there is no moral difference between what the British have done and what she claims to have done by right.

PRESIDENT GIVES UP MANAGEMENT OF MARION DAILY STAR

Washington, June 20.—President Harding has relinquished control of his newspaper, the Marion Star, of Marion, Ohio, to Louis H. Brush of Salem, O., and Roy D. Moore, of Columbus, who was announced at the White House today.

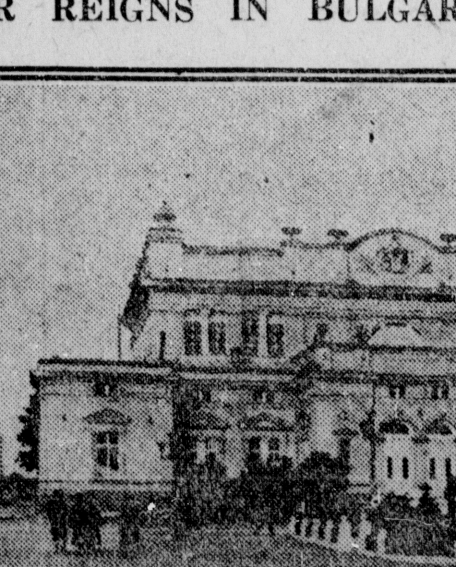

Mr. Harding will continue to write editorials for the paper which he has owned for 40 years but will retire from active management.

NEGRESS MURDERS ITALIAN HUSBAND

Columbus, June 20.—Michael Dewey Albanese, 32, Italian, is dead and his negro wife is being held by police for investigation today, following her confession that she shot him because of "racial prejudice." "I had to shoot him or he would have killed me," she told police.

The colored woman told police that Albanese had been cast out of his family, and ostracized by his friends because of his marriage to a negro. She said that Albanese, embittered by the loss of his racial standing often became morbid and beat her mercilessly.

Plans to Introduce New Beer Bill

Rep. Fred A. Britten, Republican of Illinois, a "wet" leader, has announced his intention of introducing a beer and light wines bill on the first day of the new Congress.

In an explanatory statement he declared that $700,000,000—more than enough to run the entire Army and Navy for a year—could be produced in revenue by permitting the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer under Federal tax. "Such a tax would be paid more cheerfully than any other the Government could impose," he declared. "It would not only take care of a soldiers' bonus, but would pay off the whole national debt in twenty years."

NO ARRESTS MADE IN INVESTIGATION OF SAFE BLOWING

Although bloodhounds were used Tuesday in an attempt to trace the whereabouts of the yegg who blew the safe in the mill of The Dewine Company, at Old Town early Tuesday morning, no arrests have yet been made, according to information from the Sheriff's office.

The bloodhounds were obtained from Blanchester and Sheriff Morris Sharp accompanied them to the mill where the hunt was taken up. The yegg used a heavy charge of dynamite, completely wrecking the safe, but obtained only $25. He then escaped from a basement door after breaking the lock and forced the mill race to make his escape.

The dogs took up the scene farther down the stream, indicating the safe-blower had continued in the stream for some time before climbing out on an opposite bank. The dogs led officers across a corn field and into the village of Old Town.

PYTHIANS MAKING MERRY AT COLUMBUS

RIVER OF LAVA DEVASTATES 11 ITALIAN TOWNS

Nearly 100,000 People Are Homeless as Result of
Volcano Action

EAST SICILY BURIED

No Loss of Life Reported—
Fear of Earthquake Still Continues

Rome, June 20.—Nearly 100,000 persons were homeless today from the torrent of destruction which continues to roll in a devastating stream from the flaming crater of Mount Etna. Eleven Sicilian villages and towns have been completely or partially destroyed by the relentless sweep of the river of molten lava.

It is feared that Giarro, a town of 17,000 souls, and Linfrugliosa, a community of 13,000 residents, are doomed.

The whole of Eastern Sicily is buried under a blanket of ashes, cinders and volcanic dust. Clouds of cinders, borne by the wind, are falling upon the mainland.

A lava stream 2,000 feet wide and 30 feet high is creeping onward, but its progress has been somewhat retarded by the hilly nature of the country about the foot of the volcano.

The continued eruption has heightened the fears of earthquake.

The devastating river of lava is nearing the sea between Messina and Thormine, both of which places are crowded with panic stricken refugees. Fascist troops were sent into some threatened villages to drive out the inhabitants. The people, dazed by fear, were reluctant to flee from their homes.

Long lines of military motor lorries fill the roads, carrying the most valuable belongings of the villagers.

So far no loss of life has been reported, owing to the slowness of the lava river in spreading and the absence of earthquakes.

Smoke is rolling from the crater of Vesuvius, but so far this volcano has not joined Etna in active eruption. Precautionary measures are being taken to safeguard the residents about Vesuvius.

The spectacle of Etna during the night made a grand but terrifying scene. A steady rain of red hot lava poured upward, lighting the sky with its fiery glow. The glare could be seen for 200 miles.

As the flame and lava vomited skyward, accompanied by thunderous detonations, spurts of dense black smoke and steam rolled from the burning mountain top. There was a steady flow of lava and cinders.

The slowly moving fire was setting fire to vineyards, groves and dwellings. Beneath the orange glow in the sky was a dense pall of smoke which eddied in the wind from the sea.

Tourists watched the terrible spectacle spellbound. Some even traveled from Rome to get a glimpse of the tragic grandeur. It seemed as though nature were in action with her heaviest artillery in this battle against the works of man.

Premier Benito Mussolini, who has been in Florence, sent word that he would leave at once for Catania to aid the rescue work.

Towards noon two divergent streams of lava began advancing upon Linguaglossa. The outlying villages of Catena and Cerro were submerged and destroyed making 300 additional families homeless.

The damage is mounting steadily by millions of dollars.

LINER IN PORT WITH NEW RECORD

New York, June 20.—The White Star liner Majestic, the first "bone dry" ship to arrive, established a new speed record when it came into port. Covering the extreme southern course of 3,196 miles, the Majestic sped from Cherbourg to Ambrose light in five days, 12 hours and 18 minutes, which is half an hour less than its own previous record. Except for 36 gallons of brandy in its doctor's stores, the Majestic was said to be thoroughly dry in compliance with the Volstead law and supreme court rulings. Passengers consumed all of the other liquor aboard, so that the vessel might not reach America "wet." When the ship was provisioned at Southampton each passenger made out a requisition based on his estimate of his liquid capacity.

KING BORIS HAS SEVERAL TRADES

Paris, June 20.—Tsar Boris III of Bulgaria is quoted in a Paris paper as follows: "While I do not expect to lose my throne as a result of the revolution in my country, it would not frighten me if I did. For I would go right to America and get a job. I've got lots of trades, including locomotive engineer and racing automobile driver, while if mechanics should fail there is no reason why I should not get a job as a university professor."

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S.S.S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S.S.S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S.S.S. that did it."

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Penbrook Resident Tells About Her Remarkable Recovery

MRS. ANNIE PAGE

Mrs. Annie Page, highly esteemed resident of 3238 Main Street, Penbrook, Pa., is another who is enjoying splendid health as a result of the Tanlac treatment.

"What Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. Page, "is too wonderful for words to express. For six or seven years I had been troubled with rheumatism in my arms. I couldn't even wash the dishes, or peel the potatoes, and, in fact, my arms were just about useless.

"My health was also bad otherwise. My stomach was all out of order. I couldn't get a good night's sleep and often had dizzy headaches. I had just about given up hope of ever getting well.

"But Tanlac helped me from the start and now I haven't a rheumatic pain or an ailment of any kind. I eat and sleep like a child, and while I am 63, I don't feel a bit over 40. Nothing is too good to say for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

P. R. R. TO PAY GOVERNMENT $90,000,000 FOR WAR CLAIMS.

An agreement to pay into the Treasury $90,000,000 has been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad as in final settlement between the railroad and the Government of all accounts arising out of the war-time Federal control.

The Pennsylvania's payment will reimburse the Government for the cost of a large number of additions and betterments made to its lines during the period of Government control, which over-balanced all of the road's claims against the Treasury for damages, undermaintenance and other items.

"The Director General of Railroads has effected a final settlement with the twenty-four companies comprising the Pennsylvania system for financial accounting arising during the twenty-six months' period of Federal control." Director General Davis said in a statement. "After an adjustment of all accounts between the Government and these railroads there is a balance due the Government, largely on account of capital expenditures, of $90,000,000. Under the law this amount will be funded by the Government, the railroad giving properly secured paper for the ultimate payment of same.

"This completes the largest adjustment which has been or will be before the Railroad Administration. The tonnage carried by the Pennsylvania system represents about one-tenth of the total traffic handled by Class 1 roads of this country, and the equipment, freight cars, locomotives and passenger cars represent about the same proportion of the equipment of Class 1 roads."

The Railroad Administration has now settled the accounts arising from Federal control of companies which own 86 per cent of the country's rail mileage. While most of the settlements have involved payments by the Government to railroads, several companies have returned money or securities, evidencing indebtedness to the Treasury.

OUR LEADING INDUSTRY.

The growth of population, industry and wealth in the United States are subjects frequently paraded, but we have overlooked the real phenomenon, which is the growth of government. Americans are perhaps the most governed people in the world, says the Yakima, Washington, Daily Republic.

Nation, state, county and city all bestow a share and take a share of tribute.

And government makes business for itself. Whenever we see it we see it growing, expanding, reproducing itself. Whenever a seed of it falls, in soil however barren, it shoots up and flowers, a full blown plant, almost overnight.

Millions of Americans live on government; derive their support from the organizations society has formed to collect and spend the public revenues, to make and enforce laws and to administer the common affairs.

Government, then, is a leading American industry, a contemporary concludes. No other industry receives and spends such a revenue, employs such numbers or contributes so little to the common affairs.

overnment, then, is a leading Ameriran industry. a contemporary concludes. No other industry receiveen and spends such a revenue, employs such numbers or contributes so little to the national wealth.

Probably America will have to find a way sometime to check the growth of government, or it will monopolize the soil and choke all other growths. The wealth-producing industries cannot keep pace with it. Senator Smoot has said that if congress sets up a new government bureau with three officials and $25,000, it will, within a very short time, grow to 20 times that size and require a million dollars.

To have more government than we need is just as wasteful as to prepare more food for dinner than we can eat.

THE CAREER.

Thousands leaving school and college are naturally much concerned as to the choice of a career. A questionnaire presented to the graduating class at Harvard, founded as a college to train ministers, show eight entering the ministry and ninety-six going into business, with eighty-nine choosing the law and forty-four expressing a preference for banking. Medicine and teaching will engage the trained effort of thirty-eight and thirtytwo, respectively. Other callings show a scattering of the fire of youth among various objectives.

Young men and women standing where brook and river meet at commencement time should not feel disheartened if they feel they have not yet made their ultimate choice of a career. A large proportion of the most successful college graduates tried several things before they discovered what they could do to best advantage. He who vacillates year after year may find himself jack of all trades, master of none. But a reasonable amount of time used in ascertaining the most fruitful employment of one's talents is not misspent. In almost any profession, experience gained in a totally different field of activity may be of very great value.

THE MANICURE

Begin your manicure by assembling all your tools on a convenient low table. You'll want a towel, a bowl of very warm soapy water, with a little perfume or lemon juice in it if you want the manicure to be specially refreshing, a long flexible nail file, a file with an end for cleaning under the nails, an orange wood stick, one end wrapped in a little cotton, manicure scissors, emery papers, buffer, polishing paste or powder, and a small jar of any sort of cream. You can include a little pumice powder, or cuticle solvent, if you use anything extra for removing the dead skin. But these last aren't really necessary.

File your nails to which ever best suits your hand—a moderate pointed oval is safest. Soak the finger tips a few minutes in the warm water, clean under the nails smooth them off with the emery board, slip the blades of the scissors under each corner of the nail and clip off the rough bits which collect. Ordinarily, pushing back the surrounding skin will be enough. But in some cases, powdered pumice must be rubbed around the nail, soaked off and the skin cut smooth—or any one of the patented solvents may be used. As these methods are drying, a special amount of cream is necessary afterwards or the nails will become dry and brittle. In most cases, however, pushing back the skin, then using the buffer vigorously with the polishing powder and clipping off the rough bits of skin which the powder shows up, is quite enough. Wash off the powder and rub in cream. Let the cream stay on as long as possible, wipe around each nail with the cotton wrapped end of the orange stick, and polish once more with a clean buffer, or the same one wiped free of powder.

MY BELOVED BLUE

God must have loved blue very much, for He made it one of His three primary colors from which all colors would come. The blue sky, the blue sea, the blue bird, the soft blue in a pair of eyes—the "wild, sweet blue" of the bluebell flower. No wonder the stars are set in the blue sky! Beauty and blue—the two couldn't be separated. Nor is it strange that the Indian mind was so deeply impressed with this same beautiful blue. To them it was "the mystic blue."

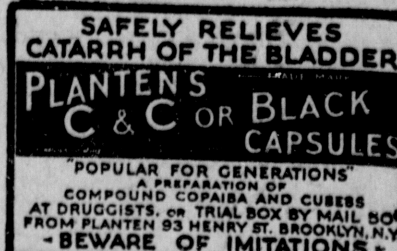

I dress my books in leather that has been made blue—and thereupon I love them just that much more. My favorite stone is the blue sapphire and I wear two little fellows in a ring on my left little finger, and they look up and smile at me as I type these Talks from day to day. And O, the beautiful blue of the sky in the half-tropics, holding out a moon that drops its rays to dance upon an ocean of blue! Or that same sky—though different in its mood of blue—hovering above the vast desert on a still, cool night.

How the artists of the Orient love

to weave their rich and magnificent colorings upon a background of blue. What a cosmic soul has this beloved blue!

I carry a picture in my mind of a glorious sunset in the mountains. Had been riding all day—winding in and out—until we came to a peaceful lake hidden among the great high peaks of earth. Like a great jewel set under the blue of that sky was this water of blue—such deep inspiring blue. And the colors of that sunset that put its arms about that scene took on the beauty of an Australian opal with its brilliance and indescribable rarity.

How gently does the beautiful blue breathe out its influence! How happy it makes us.

MORE THAN 200 IN ATTENDANCE HERE AT ALUMNI BANQUET

Arthur S. Kany, Dayton, of the class of 1902 was elected president of the Central High School Alumni Association to succeed Clarence K. Horen, class of 1916, at the annual reception to the new graduates and dinner held in the new Central High Building Tuesday night and attended by more than 200.

Phillip Moore, of the class of 1921, was elected vice president and Miss Florence Mitchell class of 1913, treasurer. Miss Margaret Wead, class of 1917, continued in office having been elected last year to serve several years as secretary.

Classes as far back as 1885 were represented at the annual affair; there being one member each from the classes of 1886, 1887, 1889, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1897, 1900 and 1901. From 1900 until the present every class was represented with one or more members with the exception of the classes of 1908 and 1914. The new class of 1923 had the largest representation with 30 of its 31 members present, and the classes of 1922 and 1919 were next highest with 12 each in attendance. There were 11 members each present from the classes of 1920 and 1921, seven each from the classes of 1903 and 1918 and five each from the classes of 1902, and 1913 and 1917 while six were present of the class of 1903.

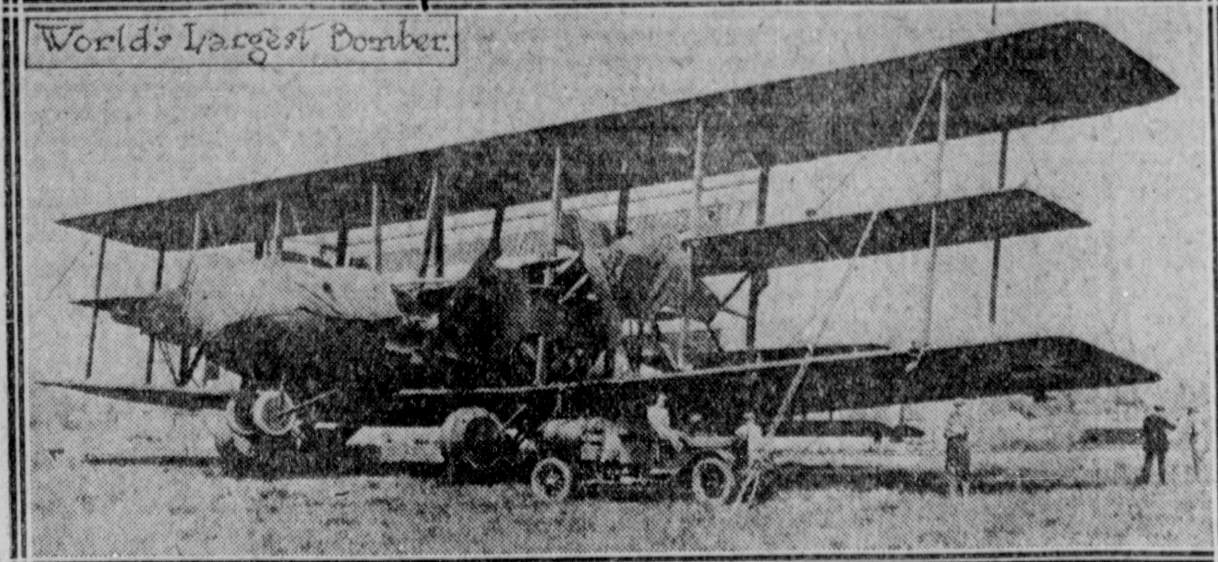

Officers of the association were in the receiving line that greeted the guests. Dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany in the cafeteria of the new school building, the dining room being crowded. There C. K. Horen, president of the Association, delivered the welcome address to the incoming class of 1923 to which Miss Alicia Monroe, class vice president, responded. The menu consisted of chicken patties, potatoes, peas, pickles, fruit salad, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee.

Following the dinner a brief business session was held during which Miss Margaret Wead, secretary and Miss Julia Wolf, treasurer, gave their reports. Officers were then elected and Mr. Kany responded with a speech of acceptance. The guests were then entertained in the Jean E. Elwell Auditorium with a one-act playlet, "The Trysting Place," cleverly presented by a cast including Mrs. Clara G. Reutinger, Miss Elsie Weber, John Sutton, Miss Clara Marshall, Fred Flynn, Charles A. Bone and John R. Beacham. The cast directed by Miss Jean E. Elwell gave an excellent interpretation of the light play. Preceding the playlet, the Rev. W. T. Tilford solicited the support of members present for the Community Recreation Association. Following the play the guests danced in study halls on the third floor, the Novelty Sextette furnished the music.

Some of the returning graduates did not sign the register kept by A. C. Bales and others failed to give their class number. Those who signed follow: Fern Jack, Jessie Carruthers, (Jois D. ## WORLD'S LARGEST BOMBER NEARS COMPLETION

The greatest bombing airplane the world has ever seen has been almost completed at Wilbur Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, and is undergoing her ground tests, preliminary to flying. Lieutenants Harold R. Harris and Leigh

Wade, with a crew of ten men, will man the ship. It has a wing spread of 120 feet, a fuselage of 65 feet and a gasoline tank capable of carrying 2,120 gallons. It mounts seven machine guns and will carry 12,000 pounds of bombs. The War Department is planning even larger machines. The Barling, as it is called, weighs 20 tons, and two big tractors are necessary to haul it out of its hangar. It is powered with six horsepower Liberty engines.

MARY ANTIN TALKS BEFORE STUDENTS AT ANTIOCH COLLEGE

Mary Antin, Russian Jewess, distinguished publicist, and author of "The Promised Land," spoke Monday at Antioch College assembly on the "Americanization of the Immigrant." Her idea is Americanization by association; her convictions are dynamic; her English is a perfect medium; and after the address a thoughtful hearer remarked, "What Mary Antin has become, is the real solution of the immigrant problem."

Mme. Grabau, Mary Antin, is putting her young daughter into the academy at Antioch, and, supposable, had taken the entrance examinations with her; for, when President Morgan introduced her she said, "I have just been taking the intelligence tests and, as I have not yet heard the results, I do not know whether I am competent to address an audience or not. Perhaps, I can interest you in one of my old stock Americanization stories."

MUCH IS HEARD TODAY

Concerning the Course on Which the Ship of Business Is Sailing.

Those claiming to be Pilots are numerous but many of them inspire no confidence. Records of the past offer no sure guide, for vast changes have been wrought in world economies.

But the American Home is still an institution of which we can be sure and no safer securities are obtainable in the world today than carefully selected first mortgages on American Homes.

Securities of this type are the strong base upon which our business is established.

KAR AND HUCKLE TO MEET
Chillicothe, O. June 20.—In the selfsame ring wherein Johnny Kilbane was wont to strut his stuff during the war days of Camp Sher-

The fight, local men assure us, was not promoted with the idea of selling oil stock. It was promoted without any idea at all. Apparently the boys just happened to feel affluent on one of those evenings.

The town is pro-Gibbons to the point of being downright zealous about it, but the interest in the challenger to date has been purely sentimental. It knows him as an affable, well disposed young man with the color of a milk maid and the clear, cool eye of a man who knows that his well being is beyond suspicion. It knows him also as a fighter whose speed is such that even Dempsey may have trouble in reaching him and whose punch is sufficiently ponderous to ruin the first jaw it happens to meet. Yet its uncertainty seems to be most natural.

The writer has watched Gibbons with considerable care in his daily workouts and can do no less than say that they are impressive. He seems to have everything, including the will to win, but Dempsey is Dempsey. It is no simple matter to pick a man to finish around who has won some 40 of his 57 fights by knockouts. We, at any rate, will not attempt to do so. Our only contribution to the general testimony, for and against, is that statements to the effect that the champion will cakewalk are like the well known fallen arch—too flat to stand up.

RICKARD MAY STOP BOUT

New York, June 20.—Promoter Tex Rickard threatened the law on the crowned head of Benny Leonard, light weight champion today.

Rickard promised suits against Billy Gibson, Leonard's manager, Charlie White, Chicago mitt artist and any and all persons who interfered with a meeting of the two punchers.

Rickard claims to hold a contract with Leonard and White in which the two agree to do battle for him before Leonard puts on a glove against anybody else.

At the same time Cromwell athletic club of New York, lease-holders for fights at the Yankee stadium—announced the signing of Leonard and Lew Tendler, Philadelphian, to meet in a 15 round decision go to be staged the night of July 23.

Both Leonard and Tendler have signed John Hancocks to the agreement. They pledged to make 135 at 2 o'clock on the fight date. Leonard is to get 35 percent of the net—Tendler 15.

"But they can't fight—Leonard has to fight White first," Rickard answers. Rickard had Leonard and White signed to meet Oct. 3 last. Leonard's law became affected. A postponement resulted. "I'll go to court, that contract is still good," Rickard insists.

RUB IN ENARCO—RUB OUT THE ACHE

Aches that dig right into the marrow of your bones. Just rub in Enarco and rub out the pain. All gone, what a relief! If Enarco won't do it nothing else will. Get a bottle today. Better than liniment.

Shelby would be pleased to know just how Gibbons' perfectly tuned anatomy will react to the Dempsey attack. It is more than casually interested in view of the fact that it would like to take some of the short end money, if it could only be certain that Bucks tossed upon the waters will return after several days. It has had an ample sufficiency of gambling on long shots, such as promoting prize fights for the sake of showing the country at large what a Montana sport will do when his soul craves action.

RESERVES BOOK FORESTERS

With two straight victories to their credit, the Xenia Reserves will tackle the Dayton Foresters at Reserve Park Cincinnati Avenue, next Sunday afternoon.

The Reserves management attempted to book the Dayton Racers, but finding that team without an open date, will bring the Foresters here on the assurance that the latter club is as good if not better than the Racers.

The Reserves will lineup about the same as last Sunday when they defeated the St. Paris Monks, with Wical doing the pitching. The Reserves management has arranged with the Dayton and Xenia bus line to run buses to the park from Main and Detroit streets every 15 minutes from 1 30 until three o'clock. A new grandstand seating 1,000 fans has been lately erected at the Park and parking space for automobiles is provided.

Prizes with each 100 tickets sold at the gate are being announced, and a box of cigars, a woman's umbrella or a $2 bill will be offered. Admission at the gate will be 25 cents for men, 10 cents for women and for children over five years of age. The Reserves will practice Friday night at six o'clock.

VETERAN'S SON IN RING.

Dayton, June 20.—"Bob" Fitzsimmons, Jr., son of the great "Rube" Robert, ex-heavyweight champ, and world's greatest fighter has been matched with Joe Lohman of Toledo for a 12 round decision contest at North Side Ball Park Friday night, June 29.

Young Bob is a comer among the young crop of heavyweights and has beaten most of the present white hopes including Martin Burke. He has inherited many tricks and much ring craft from his father and is the possessor of a tremendous punch and with more experience may be a serious contender for title in the near future. In facing Lohman, himself a very fast big feller who just gave Floyd Johnson a licking, he will have to show all of his tricks to earn a decision. Just recently in a local ring, Lohman gave Bill Reed 20 pounds and a licking, making a favorable impression with local fans.

JOHNSON BETS ON WILLARD

New York June 20.—Vanquished paid tribute to victor here today. Floyd Johnson, who fell beneath blows of Jess Willard in their meeting last month, wagered $5,000 that the Kansas Giant will flatten Luis Firpo when the two meet in Jersey City, July 12.

"I met Willard—I know," says Johnson.

SCOUT TROOP TO MEET

There will be a full meeting of Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America, at the Presbyterian Church Thursday evening at seven o'clock according to announcement of Scoutmaster Walter L. Jobe. Important business will be transacted at the meeting.

BOUNDARY LINES OF XENIA VOTING PRECINCTS CHANGED

Boundary lines of three Xenia City precincts were changed by the Greene County Board of Elections in meeting Tuesday night in order to make the number of voters in city precincts more uniform, and facilitate the work of counting.

The changes were worked out in anticipation of the coming primary and election because of conditions found at the election last fall, when some precincts almost doubled others adjoining in the number of votes. The new women voters created an increase that even the increase in the number of precincts from eight to 14 failed to distribute fairly.

Precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 8 and 9 were affected by the changes in the precinct boundaries made at Tuesday's meeting. Boundary lines between precincts one and two have been changed as follows: the north boundary of precinct two or the south boundary of precinct one will be from the intersection of Second and West Streets west on Second Street to the west corporation line. The previous boundary line was from the intersection of Main and West streets west to Orange, south on Orange to Second and thence west to the west corporation line. The change will distribute some of the voters of Precinct two into the less populous Precinct one.

An irregular boundary line between the fourth and fifth precincts has been created to throw about 150 votes from Precinct 5 which voted more than 500 last time into Precinct 4 which voted about 250. The new intersecting line will run from the intersection of West and Branch streets, east on Branch Street, to Galloway street, north on Galloway Street to Shawnee street, east on Shawnee street to King Street, north on King street to Union Street and east on Union street to Detroit street. The old intersection line was Union street straight west from Detroit to West Street.

The change of the intersecting boundary line between the eighth and ninth precincts, will throw some of the voters in the large ninth precinct into the less populous eighth precinct by making Main street the intersecting line instead of Market street. Thus the new intersecting line will be from Main to Leach street. The previous boundary was from Detroit and Market streets east on Market Street to Leach street.

The changes will distribute the voters more evenly between the precincts so that all votes should be counted within about the same period of time, considering the vote over the city normal. At the last election the officials in the more populous precincts were engaged for several hours longer at their task than the officials in some of the less populous precincts where in some cases, there were only one-half as many to count.

No other changes in the precinct boundaries were made at the meeting and the original boundaries will prevail for all other precincts in the county.

CONCERTED ACTION NECESSARY.

Cincinnati, June 20.—"Concerted action must be taken to purge this business of admitted vices," Harry L. Conn, superintendent of insurance, said last night in an address before the Cincinnati Life Underwriters Association. "There are free booters among the companies, just as there are pirates among the agents, but considering the volume of insurance and the hazards in it, and remembering that in most cases the parties to the contracts are total strangers, the results are a fine expression of the rugged honesty of the American people."

NEW WILBERFORCE TRUSTEE BOARD IN SESSION TUESDAY

The new Trustee Board of Wilberforce University held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the university building to transact the business of the school and the board at its meeting last year adopted plans for reorganization with a membership of twenty-one trustees.

Bishop J. H. Jones, the president, on account of illness was not able to attend the meeting and Bishops L. J. Coppin and W. H. Heard of Philadelphia presided. President J. A. Gregg, submitted his annual report. The total registration for the year was 1,444 students. He recommended that the opening of the school be the second Tuesday in September instead of the third and that the closing date be the second Thursday instead of the third in June; that definite plans be worked to provide the school with an endowment that is absolutely necessary for the college life, and that honorary degrees be conferred as follows: LL.D., Hon. Leonidas C. Dyer, Bishop William Decker Johnson, Dr. Richard R. Wright; M. A., Chaplain O. J. Y. Scott.

The new board negotiated a loan from the Home Building and Savings Co. of Xenia to complete the rebuilding of Shorter Hall. The amount raised and paid on the building is $112,000. Plans were adopted to start another financial rally to raise $65,000 in the First Educational District, taking in the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan.

Dr. R. R. Wright, editor of the Christian Recorder, Philadelphia, the oldest paper published by colored people was the speaker for the Annual Address delivered to Literary Societies, Tuesday night.

Wednesday afternoon the first exercises will take place celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of Wilberforce University. Bishop J. M. Coomer, Little Rock, Ark., will preside. In the evening Bishop B. F. Lee will deliver the anniversary address. The 18th Episcopal District will have ten minute talks by representatives. Bishop W. T. Vernon, who has recently returned from South Africa, will speak of his work and the missionary fields in the interior districts where he and Mrs. Vernon have labored for some time.

Prof. John R. Hawkins, Financial Secretary, Washington, D. C., and a committee to complete plans for the holding of the next General conference May 1924, Louisville, Ky., will go in session Wednesday morning.

The Bishops' midsummer council is to convene Friday morning, with Bishop B. F. Lee, the Senior Bishop of the A. M. E. Church, will preside. The Bishops and general officers will be present. Several missionaries from foreign fields, who are in the states for a short vacation will make reports. The annual prize speaking contest was held Monday evening and considerable enthusiasm was shown by the student body interested in the participants taking part in the orations for the R. A. Grant and Rust Prize, and the John A. Gregg prize. The prizes will be awarded by the judges after the commencement address Thursday morning. The judges are Miss Hallie Q. Brown, Prof. T. Bolden Stewart of Louisville, Ky., and Prof. A. S. Jackson of Waco, Texas. For the R. A. Grant and Rust Prize orations were delivered on the following subjects:

"The Graduate Faces Life," Miss Katherine G. Randolph.
"Education and the Negro," Miss Glendora Simpson.
"Some Phases of Woman's Work," Miss Alice Smith.
"Woman and the Social Reconstruction," Miss Naomi Cherot.
For the John A. Gregg Prize:
"The Task of the American Youth," Marcellus Henderson.
"The Valor of the Negro Soldier," Frank C. Beane.
"Better by Oppression," Toussaint L. Hale.
"American Democracy Weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting," Mr. Ben. Hill.

LEVIATHAN AT SEA

Boston, June 20.—The reconditioned shipping board steamer Leviathan, finest vessel in the world, got underway for her six-day trial trip to Cuba, with the full complement of 600 guests aboard. She is due to brush by Bermuda on the way down, and to dock at Pier 86, North river, New York city, Sunday afternoon. The trial board came on early and are writing down the performance figures in the log.

Chairman Lasker and the members of the board received their guests from small craft, which steamed nearly 20 miles from Commonwealth pier to the vessel's anchorage.

Every housekeeper will want to put up at least a few jars of cherries this year. For there is no more delectable—not to say delicious—fruit to combine with a dainty salad or to garnish a tempting dessert. Can them as follows:

To Can Sweet Cherries—The oxheart variety are perhaps best for canning—although sour cherries may be put up in a sweeter sirup with excellent results. Wash the cherries in cold water and pit them. Sterilize your glass jars by boiling them for 20 minutes, with their covers, in clear water. Drain and while still hot, pack them with the cherries. Whatever juice you saved when pitting the cherries, should now be added to the jar. Have ready a hot sirup made as follows: To six quarts of cherries allow three pounds of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water; combine and bring this sugar and water to a boil, then let continue to boil for ten minutes. Turn it over the fruit in the jars.

Now put a fresh rubber on the jar. (This rubber should be merely dipped for an instant in boiling water to sterilize it.) Then put on the glass cap of the jar. Partially seal—that is, put up the top wire, over cap, but do not press down side wire. Sink the jar in a boiler of water in your wash-boiler canner (stand it on a wire rack in the canner, so that the boiling water will circulate under the jar as well as around it), and watch closely to see when the water again starts to boil. When it does, let it continue to simmer for 16 minutes. It is best not to have this boiling water rise over the top of the jars; let it come to within an inch from the jar top. At the end of this 16-minute period of "processing" remove jar from the canner, completely seal (that is, press down side wire) and invert to cool and test for leaks. If it leaks, you must open it, put on a fresh rubber, and process for five minutes longer, partially sealed, as just described above; then completely seal and again test for leaks. I would advise all my Housekeeper Readers to send to Washington D. C. for the Farmer's Bulletin No. 1214 entitled "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," which can be obtained without charge if you write to the Division of Publications, Washington, D. C., and ask for it.

DELEGATES ATTEND PRESBYTERIAL MEET IN SPRINGFIELD

More than 100 delegates including members from Xenia, Jamestown, Sugar Creek, Clifton, Cedarville, Columbus, New California Reynoldsburg and Springfield, are expected to attend the two day meeting of the Xenia Presbyterial Young Peoples' Societies, at Springfield, Wednesday and Thursday. Sessions began Wednesday at the Springfield First United Presbyterian Church with Miss Mildred Kyle of Springfield in charge of arrangements. The Rev. Mr. Smith of Buffalo will be the speaker, for the occasion. He will open the session Wednesday night with a talk. His other talks will be given Thursday afternoon and night. A business session will be held Thursday morning, when officers will be elected.

Luncheon will be served at the Church and a dinner will be given at night.

Present officers of the organization are: President Miss Dorothy Collins, Clifton; secretary, Miss Lackey, of Jamestown; treasurer, Miss Mildred Kyle, Springfield. The Rev. Mr. McClure of Columbus is in charge of the young people's work for the presbyterial.

NORTH POLE NOW WITHIN SPEAKING DISTANCE OF U. S.

On board the schooner Edwain, Wiscasset, Maine, June 20.—Radio to I. N. S. The North Pole is within speaking distance of the United States.

Such is the belief expressed here today by Doctor Donald B. MacMillan, intrepid arctic explorer. Saturday Dr. MacMillan will sail from this port to prove his contention. His tiny eighty-eight foot schooner will be fully equipped with high powered wireless apparatus, from which he will attempt on every leg of his journey, to send messages of progress back to the states.

His message call of "W. N. T." will be locked for every radio station first to advance the study of this means of communication and later, when the Bowdoin is stealing her way through the ice lanes of the Arctic, to listen for messages of distress.

The expedition will be bade God speed by Gov. Percival Baxter Saturday afternoon.

Dr. MacMillan knows the Arctic as most men know their city streets. He was with Peary on his dash to the pole. The explorer believes his expedition will experience its greatest difficulty in reaching Cape Sabine—the farthest north point where the ship must be abandoned.

At this point Dr. MacMillan will erect a tablet for the national geographic society, in memory of the 18 members of the ill fated Greeley expedition of 1884 who lost their lives in their pioneer effort to reach the polar region.

"The worst enemy of the explorer—the months of isolation from the world—will be missing this time," Dr. MacMillan said today. "We believe we will be able to pick up the concerts broadcast by American radio stations—entertainment and news of the world through the whole long winter night."

The Bowdoin is the smallest vessel ever used in a polar dash.

"If we have to abandon it we will seek quarters with some Eskimo tribe, while a relief party, notified by wireless or our plight, can come to our rescue," MacMillan said.

Dr. MacMillan expects his dash will take sixteen months.

"I am very glad Captain. Roald Amundsen has abandoned his proposed hop to the pole in a heavier than air machine—it meant certain death," he said. "I believe the day is near when a ship of the zepelin type will reach the top of the world."

G. F. McDonald, Chicago radio manufacturer, is going as far as Battle Harbor Labrador, with the party.

A small crew of seamen will run the ship.

CRAIG ASSURES NATALIE SHE DID NOT RIG-4
Chapter XXVI

Craig was down the steps of the club almost before Natalie stopped the car. With a gay salutation he jumped in and they started off, Natalie already in better spirits because of the thought of a pleasant day.

Craig was in high spirits and his gaiety was infectious. He told stories, making Natalie laugh as she hadn't in weeks. He kept away from personalities until they reached the Inn where they were to lunch, then he asked:

"Now tell me all about the burglary at your house. Have they found any of the stuff yet?"

"No, he had time to get away with it. Horace and his mother dived over their dinner so long that night." Gradually Craig heard the whole story, except Horace's refusal to speak to Natalie, his treating her like a stranger. Craig's sympathy, his assurance that she had been right in demanding an apology before she gave one, heartened her, and made her oblivious of his light words of endearment. It was good to have someone understand and appreciate one.

"Why, they could have caught the burglar if they had listened to you; at least they would have searched for him and frightened him away. I should say it served them jolly well to be robbed after treating you like that!"

"That's just the way I felt, and I haven't been a bit sorry that Mrs. Crandell lost her jewels. I suppose I'm horrid but I can't help it," Natalie returned.

"Who could have imagined such a thing happening," Craig went on. "You saw him, told them about him, and they just dismissed it with a shrug." "Just as they dismiss me," Natalie said, a little of the bitterness she felt creeping in her voice. Never before had she given voice to her feeling, her unwanted presence in her husband's house. Craig looked keenly at her, but she was absorbed in her thoughts.

"You shouldn't allow it. You should assert yourself," he said after a moment. "People as a rule impose upon those who do not."

Natalie wholeheartedly agreed with him, although she did not say so. Why let him know she never before had dared to assert herself in her own home? It had taken something very unusual, something that had reacted upon her to such an extent as to destroy her fear of consequences, to give her the courage needed to stand up against her mother-in-law and her husband.

Yet Natalie did not believe Horace would long hold out against her. He couldn't! He knew she loved him, that she had told the truth about the burglar, that she had been terribly frightened and had received no sympathy.

The two had a gay little luncheon. Craig occasionally referring to Natalie's experience, telling her how brave she had been and so forth. Afterward they rode on into the country, but Natalie watched the time and turned the car in time to get home for dinner.

Never since she married had she remained out to dinner without Horace. Things were straining enough between them without giving him real cause for complaint. She knew how he felt about being absent at meal time—and, although dinner was now a meal of silent torture to her, she had no idea of evading that torture by remaining out.

Craig spoke of the street fair. He was managing a booth. He said:

"I wish you would help us, Natalie. We are selling cigarettes and smokers' outfits. You would make a stunning Spanish girl."

"Perhaps I will if you ask me nicely," she replied. She would let Beverly Rainsford see she couldn't ignore her.

Craig was delighted, told her who was working with him in the booth, and together they planned her costume.

"The success of our booth is assured," he said gleefully, "and besides I shall have you with me for two days. I'd buy everything put on sale in favor of that privilege. I wonder, Natalie, if you realize how beautiful you are, what a temptation!"

Natalie laughed, led Craig out at his club and went home filled with childlike delight that she was to have a chance to show Beverly Rainsford she could take part in the fair.

LIABILITIES AND ASSETS LISTED

Cincinnati, June 20.—Liabilities of $1,705,259.61 and assets of $704,949.53 were listed in a schedule filed by Beazell & Chatfield, bankrupt brokerage house. Of the assets listed almost $530,000 took the form of promissory notes. William H. Chatfield, former state senator, was the Republican nominee for the lieutenant governorship in 1922.

BREAKFAST IS MADE OR MARRIED

By The Coffee That Is Served
"E" Brand Always Starts The Day Right

---IT IS SO GOOD---BECAUSE

At the end of an imperfect day did you ever stop to think back over the whole thing and realize that things started wrong with a cup of disappointing coffee at breakfast? Both stomach and temper were put out of tune and the entire day seemed full of vexations. Many a man and woman has just missed a successful day by so small a thing as a cup of poor coffee.

"E" BRAND NEVER DISAPPOINTS

The fragrant, appetizing aroma that greets your nostrils with the first wiff of the breakfast is only a prophecy of the rich, mellow flavor and zestful tang that you will find in the cup. It will clear the sleep languor out of your brain and send you out wide awake, brisk and full of pep. Whether made in large quantities or small it has the same delicious, satisfying quality.

"E" Brand is the finest grade coffee. No better grows. It is selected with great care after long experimenting to find a coffee that will measure up fully to the high standard demanded by a firm that has sold "Quality products for fifty years." It contains no chaff or other by-product to give it a bitter taste. It is steel cut and comes to you ALWAYS FRESH ROASTED, and hermetically sealed.

ARE YOU WILLING TO BE CONVINCED

that there is a better coffee than the one you are using? If so we urge you to try "E" Brand at once. You will be astonished that so wonderful a coffee can be sold at so low a price. YOU CANNOT LOSE ONE PENNY on a trial of "E" Brand coffee. If you are not perfectly satisfied that it is the best coffee you ever got for the money we insist that you return the partly empty sack to the grocer from whom you bought it and he will refund every cent you paid for it. Could any fairer arrangement be made? With your next grocery order include a package of "E" Brand. It will delight you.
